Unless arbitration is accepted by both the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. and the Illinois Telephone Traffic Union, telephones throughout a large part of Illinois will go dead (except for emergency calls) at seven o'clock Monday morning, April 7.

The Illinois Telephone Traffic Union, Local 14 of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, representing 2400 long distance operators in Chicago and 7600 telephone operators, both local and long distance, in 99 communities throughout Illinois and Northwestern Indiana, has voted to strike with 265,000 telephone workers throughout the United States in the event an agreement is not reached with the various Bell System Companies in present negotiations.

Thirty-three member unions, representing over 275,000 of the telephone workers in the National Federation of Telephone Workers have filed strike notices with state and federal agencies.

The Illinois Union's demands include a $12 per week increase, shortening of apprentice schedules from 8 to 5 years, an improved vacation plan, and a $100 per month minimum pension. The demands are part of a group of 10 being made by the unions throughout the United States affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

Joseph A. Beirne, President of the NFTW, in a statement, said: "Our program of collective bargaining with the telephone industry was developed and announced last November to provide the industry plenty of time to bargain out contract details with us. They have used the time for delays and slowdowns."

"We have sought a reason for this delaying process," he continued. "It is our considered opinion that they are waiting for Congress to pass legislation that will give the companies a bargaining advantage."

Following announcement of the Illinois Bell Telephone Company that it offered to arbitrate the wage demands of the Commercial Telephone Workers Union, the following statement was made by G. K. McCormick, President:

"The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. today offers to let a panel of impartial Illinois citizens represent the public's interests and arbitrate the wage demands of three unions threatening a telephone strike — on the basis of how our present wage rates compare with the wages paid by others in the local community for similar skills and training."

"We also repeat our offer to renew for the time being the present liberal contracts and one which has just expired."

"Either offer is fair to everyone, we believe, and either would avoid a telephone strike. A telephone strike hurt's everyone — public, employees, and company. A telephone strike is not necessary."

"Telephone people are well paid — We want it that way. They have good working conditions. Their work is steady. They have holidays and vacations with pay. They have sickness benefits and pensions with full cost paid by the Telephone Company."

"Wages that are too low are not fair to employees, but wages that are too high are not fair to the public who buy the service. Union demands total $35,000,000 per year. This is 8 times our present rate of earnings. It is equal to an average of $2 per month on every telephone bill."

"Our wage policy is to pay just and fair rates to employees and wages which compare favorably with local community levels for similar work and skill."

"We believe we are doing just that. But we offer to arbitrate, to avoid a telephone strike with its inevitable harm to every one."

Many towns pass Red Cross quotas

With 32 towns of the 150 in the County Communities Division exceeding their individual quotas, many of them by large margins, the overall quota of $375,000 for that division was exceeded last week with total contributions reported as of March 24 at headquarters of $392,423.60. This is 104.64% of the original quota set for that division.

The County Communities Division passed its goal 21 days after the start of the campaign March 1 this year, whereas the same division required 32 days to attain its quota in 1946 and 33 days in 1945.

In announcing the surpassing of the goal, Lowell D. Rutherford, chairman of the County Communities Division, pointed out that the overall goal of $2,550,000 for the entire Chicago area was still to be reached and urged every worker in the County Communities Division to redouble their efforts to bring to a successful climax one of the fastest campaigns ever staged in the Chicago area.

Mrs. George Hermann, Fund Campaign chairman of Palatine, reported contributions totaling $1,796 to date in that town. This is 128% of the $1,400 quota set for Palatine. Mrs. Peter Parker also of Palatine is assisting as co-chairman.

Individual towns and communities who had subscribed more than half of their quota as of March 24 are as follows:

Wood Dale, quota $100; collected, $350.00; percentage, 350%.

Arlington Heights, quota, $2,400; collected, $994.00; percentage, 40%.

Northbrook, quota $1,000; collected, $1,582.06; percentage 158.20%.

Bloomington, quota, $200; collected, $300.00; percentage 150%.

Schaumburg Township, quota, $250; collected $325.25; percentage, 130.10%.

Roselle, quota, $300; collected $350.00; percentage, 116.66%.

Indian ceremony inducts boys into Cub scouts

A double surprise featured the induction ceremony presented at the monthly pack meeting of Arlington Heights Cub Pack 232 at the North School on Friday evening, March 21.

As the curtain parted to the audience saw Indian braves dancing about a camp fire. Surprise number one was the manner in which the cast was dressed. A little here and a little there, plus beadwork bracelets and feather head-dresses, gave the Cubs a realistic Indian appearance.

Chief Akela as portrayed by Dick McAuliffe, accepted the following Cubs as members of the pack: Lowell Dobbins, Harold Gjoen, Charles Jarmuth, John Pfingsten and Donald Hinrichs. Surprise number two came when the induction cast started to repeat the ceremony. The audience thought the boys had become confused but soon found out that the repeat performance was given to welcome Den Dads Perry Thomas, Gerald Morrissey and Al Bahr into the pack. In the words of Chief Akela, these men had taken "A beag task upon themselves."

Thomas Reed as Baloo, Jackie Lee as Bahkera, Richard Michalski, Jr. as the medicine man, David Wood, Robert Thompson and Robert Leigh as Indian braves, assisted Chief Akela in the ceremony. All of the boys are

Ehrhorn resigns as principal of high school

Mr. E. F. Laurin, President of the Board of Education, Arlington Heights Township High School, announces the resignation of Mr. T. R. Ehrhorn as principal of the high school effective at the end of this school year.

Mr. Ehrhorn came to Arlington High from Iowa late last summer to replace Mr. Egdorf.

During his short tenure of office Mr. Ehrhorn has left his mark on the community as a fine educator of sterling character. Mr. Ehrhorn's plans for the future include completion of study for his Ph. D. degree.

Red Cross drive slows down in Arlington Heights

"Too many Arlington Heights Red Cross solicitors have had the flu," is the guess of Nat Burfield, chairman of the Red Cross committee, in giving the reason why Arlington has only reached 40% of its quota. Only two captains in the village proper have reported, much of the business district is yet to be covered and other areas are slow in completing the canvass, which is supposed to end this week.

"Districts who have reported," Mr. Burfield tells the Herald, "are equalling last year's pledges, which is a good omen that when the canvassing is completed Arlington will have 100% of its quota."

Girl Scouts to assist schools with pre-school census

Arlington Heights girl scouts in the seventh and eighth grades will conduct a house to house census of pre-school children during the week of March 31. The data collected by them will be used by the public and parochial elementary schools immediately in planning for next year's enrollment of kindergarten pupils. In addition, it will provide them with a basis for calculating school enrollments for the next several years.

Under the direction of their scout leaders, the girls will canvass every home in the school district. For each residence they will fill out a card indicating the name and street address of the occupant. If there are pre-school children, that is children who are not yet in first grade or kindergarten, parents will be asked to supply the names of these pre-school children, the dates of their birth, and the school they expect to attend.

School authorities have expressed their appreciation for the enthusiasm with which the girl scouts and their leaders have agreed to assist with this community service.

Suburbs to get month extension on tax penalty

With a further delay in figuring suburban tax rates making it certain that 488,063 suburban taxpayers will get an extension of the first installment penalty deadline to June 1, County Treasurer Louis E. Nelson last week end put on night crews to get out the city of Chicago bills by April 1, so their deadline could remain at May 1.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn announced Friday that his tax department had held its tax rates for the year, and that the 460 suburban rates under the complicated formula handed down by the Illinois Supreme court two weeks ago, in the test case of Anderson vs. Park Ridge. Completion early this week was expected.

Ill. Aircraft Sales and Service comes out of hiding

Guess work is no longer necessary about the company which secured the lease of Arlington Airport. The Illinois Aircraft Sales and Service is no longer in hiding. The office of its attorney is being used for headquarters of the company and a telephone number has been secured.

The address is 1 North LaSalle street, Chicago. Names of the incorporators have not yet been released. The government has also not yet officially turned the airport over to the corporation. Insurance totaling $65,000 is being written on the hangar and other building, which was one of the requirements of the Navy Department.

A spokesman for the company denied to Paddock Publications that Ravenswood airport people are interested in any way.

Nurse's club offers to pay nursing tuition for interested girl

The Arlington Heights Nurse's Club, realizing that there is an acute shortage of nurses in the nursing profession, wants to do a small part in easing the situation. They wish to take this means of announcing to the community, and especially to the girls in the 1947 high school graduating class, that they will sponsor a girl who is interested in nursing, but who lacks adequate funds, by paying her tuition (not to exceed $300) in any accredited school of nursing of her choice.

This money is to be a gift, not a loan, unless the girl does not finish her training, in which event, the money must be repaid.

Any girl interested in availing herself of this opportunity should contact Mrs. Charles Bloeker, Arlington Heights 379-R, or Mrs. Russell Ford, Arlington Heights 570-J, for further details.

Buffalo Grove road now a state-aid road for Route 83

It is the guess of county highway officials that it will be many a day before Route 83 is extended north of Higgins road through Arlington Heights, but the county board last week, looking to the future, took action that made Buffalo Grove road, between Hintz road and Dundee road a state-aid road preparatory to its use as part of Route 83, the Tri-State highway.

The county board also accepted bids for black topping the following:

Ela road from Northwest highway to Lake-Cook road, asphalt pavement, Arcole Midwest corporation, Skokie, $22,873.

Schaumburg road from Bartlett to Barrington road, asphalt, Seneca Petroleum company, $21,535.

Mt. Prospect road from Lake street to 599 feet north of Grand avenue, asphalt, Seneca Petroleum company, $19,478.

Presbyterian officials to install new church pastor

Rev. C. Victor Brown to receive charge from father, Rev. Brown

Highlighting the Lenten calendar of local Presbyterian affairs are the ceremonies by which the Rev. C. Victor Brown will be officially installed as minister of First church of this denomination in Arlington Heights. Scheduled for 7:30 o'clock the evening of Palm Sunday, March 30, the program announces participation of numerous prominent clergymen.

The installation sermon is to be given by the Rev. Paul S. Johnson, D. D., executive secretary of the Presbytery of Chicago. Another feature of the program which engages attention of the membership will be the charge to the minister to be given the pastor-elect by his father, the Rev. C. V. Brown, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church, Louisville, Ky.

Augmenting an already interesting program, Catherine Malcolm, local concert lyric soprano, will sing "O, Divine Redeemer," by Gounod. Mrs. Malcolm was soloist over Columbia and National Broadcasting Co. networks for some years. She has had the honor, also, of being soloist at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church.

Clergymen of Arlington Hts. churches who will assist on the program include the Rev. Milo J. Vondraek of the Methodist Meeting House, and the Rev. William F. Kamphenkel of St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church. Phyllis Snetinger and Dick Everett will play several pipe organ and piano duets. In addition to Dr. Paul S. Johnson's sermon, the following dignitaries of the Chicago Pres-

Seek court action in Northfield school controversy

The proposed Northfield High School District may not be formed without a court fight. The entire township was included in plans for a township high school district. An election for the formation of the district has been called for April 12 by N. J. Puffer, county superintendent of schools. In the meantime, patrons of school district 29, comprising the village of Northfield, had petitioned Mr. Puffer for an election for annexation to New Trier High School District. The annexation election will take place March 29.

Proponents for the Northfield township high school do not look with favor on the action of the village of Northfield as the loss in assessed valuation to the new township school would be considerable. No figures or possible tax rates have been presented, but feeling runs high.

If both elections carry, the village of Northfield will be in both high school districts and a court fight is certain.

School patrons in school districts 22 and 26, which are now in a non-high school district have been giving serious thought as to their positions. At present District 26 sends its pupils to Maine Township and may ask for annexation there. The assessed valuation of District 26 is not large because it contains so much non-taxable property.

If annexed to Arlington Heights, the cost to Arlington might be greater than taxes Arlington would receive.

District 22, known as the Strong school, Milwaukee ave. and Palatine road, has made no move in either direction. It is not as thickly populated as District 26 at River and Foundry road.

When the Arlington Heights High School district was formed the three elementary school districts on the east end of the township and one on the north were omitted. Last fall, two of these districts, the Weidner and Wheeling schools were annexed to Arlington.

The new Northfield High School District, in its petition, did not include any part of Wheeling township that is now in non-high school district.

SOFTBALL MEETING

Arlington Heights athletic association has announced a softball meeting for next Wednesday night at 8 p.m. at the field house. Those interested should attend.

Northwestern Cook county felt the full effect of Monday night's storm that blocked many roads and made travel very difficult. Many autoists abandoned their cars or fought out the storm, arriving home several hours late. The damp snow that weighed down telephone and electric light wires, tied up such service in many places and broke off many poles.

The Public Service Company reports that all lines damaged by the storm were repaired the same evening. Service was only interrupted in small areas.

"The worst storm in years," said Wm. C. Lathen, local manager of Illinois Bell Telephone Co. "We have never had so many phones out of service or so many telephone poles broken in one storm as occurred last Monday night."

Mr. Lathen has under his supervision the telephone exchanges at Arlington Heights, Palatine, Barrington and Lake Zurich. Two hundred lines and 600 phones were out of service. Seventy-five poles were down. The storm was especially severe to phone service along Dundee road, which is a toll route. The village of Wheeling was completely isolated as far as phone service was concerned, until six o'clock Tuesday night when it was given one line to Chicago and one line to Highland Park.

Power burns were caused by falling electric wires on two cables and four other cables were in trouble. Repairmen worked long hours to repair the damage.

Wheeling isolated
The village of Wheeling was cut off from the rest of the world. Roads were so badly blocked the Mt. Prospect Rural Route mail carrier was unable to reach the village.

Only continued vigilance on the part of the state highway department kept Northwest Highway opened between Palatine and Arlington Heights. For an hour Monday evening it was closed with ten autos stuck in drifts. Some of them were abandoned until the next morning. Two long lines of waiting cars were motionless while the snow plow cleared the road about 9:00 o'clock for one-way traffic.

Arlington Heights street department operated its trucks all Monday night. However the trucks themselves were frequently stuck when operating in the far north sections, especially in new building areas. Tuesday morning was spent clearing streets of broken limbs and trees. Erik Bros., who recently completed a $1200 contract on tree trimming within the village, were pressed into service Monday night to remove limbs that were in a dangerous position.

A number of the streets that were opened by the plows Tuesday morning had again drifted shut by noon.

The northside section of Arlington was without electric service from four to six o'clock Monday afternoon. The current came on just in time to allow the Arlington Theater to open for the evening show. However the snow prevented the machine operator from reaching Arlington and the manager, Doc Knapp, operated the movie projector. "I know that all patrons who were at the show knew that a green hand was at the controls, but the show went on in spite of difficulties," said Mr. Knapp as he made excuses for his inexperience.

Cab has narrow escape
Herbert Miller, chauffeur of one of the City Cabs, Arlington Heights, had a narrow escape on West Campbell street. When in the 400 block a large tree limb crashed across the road just as Miller reached the spot. The cab was badly damaged but the driver was unhurt. Otto Krause had just passed the place when the crash occurred. Other City Cabs escaped tree limbs, but were caught in snow banks. Vincent Weidner had to leave his car on Dundee and Hintz road and walk two miles before he found a telephone line in working order. He was without an overcoat.

Ed Worthington, street commissioner at Mt. Prospect, did his best to keep streets open in that municipality. With the exception of six times that he had to bring in the plow for repairs, the outfit was in continuous operation all Monday night and Tuesday. Mt. Prospect escaped any bad tieups. Many homes were without electric service for short periods and the street lights were out of service all Monday night.

Martin Plate, Palatine street superintendent, got into action with the new snow plow at eight o'clock and kept on the job until five o'clock the next morning. Because the business district had been completely cleared after the last storm, the downtown streets were as "clean as a whistle" by noon on Tuesday. There were few phone or electric wires down within the village.

The X Quantity In Heart Disease

by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Drug Co.

When your doctor examines you and finds an irregularity in your heart function he has the knowledge to locate all the contributing factors but one — the emotional factor.

Perhaps you are not conscious of any particular worry or fear, or any mental habits that could affect your heart condition. But let the doctor decide that by answering frankly any questions he may find it necessary to ask.

Your doctor can be trusted to do what is best for your health, just as a competent pharmacist can be trusted to carry out the doctor's prescription.

DAR urges literacy as a voting requisite

Some 500 delegates of the Daughters of the American Revolution gathered in the Drake hotel, Chicago on March 20 and 21, for their 51st State conference voted to recommend that the right to vote should depend upon a citizen's ability to read and write.

A resolution was voted commending President Lyndon O. Brown of Knox College, Galesburg, and Richard Lloyd Jones, a trustee, for a new required course set up at the school, under an endorsement given by the latter. The course is called the Lincoln lectureship on American civilization.

Directing attention to the public schools of the state, described as being "woefully understaffed" with teachers "notoriously underpaid" the delegates called upon D.A.R. members to interest themselves in adequate pay for teachers, in order to draw competent men and women into the profession.

In other resolutions the delegates reaffirmed the support of an amendment to the federal constitution to limit the proposed tenure to two terms of four years, and also of the proposed "citizens identification" act for compulsory universal fingerprinting.

Among reports given was that of the committee on D.A.R. "approved schools" which reported record contributions amounting to $9,200 in scholarships and gifts and clothing and bedding valued at $6,600 from Illinois D. A. R. chapters and members to the schools this year.

A gift of $500 was made in answer to requests of veterans at Vaughan hospital that some study be made for research of paraplegics.

Miss Jean Faulstich, a senior in Arlington Heights high school won the D.A.R. Good Citizenship award. She was a guest of the Society at luncheon in the Lantern Room of the Drake hotel.

Enjoy 2 months in oldsters paradise

St. Petersburg, Florida caters strictly to the older set and it was in this marvelous scenic setting that Mr. and Mrs. John Clausen of Arlington Heights spent two and one half months of this winter. They drove out of Arlington Heights last January 2 and didn't return until a week ago last Sunday.

They say the weather in January down in St. Petersburg was 80 degrees in the shade for 22 days. It cooled off after that and most of February was cold, though clear and beautiful.

Mr. Clausen says that the ball team of St. Petersburg is made up of men 75 years or older, they won't accept the many younger players. The oldest player on the team is 91. Another favorite past time is the shuffle boards, which are the largest in the country.

The Clausens say that more than 160,000 people visit St. Petersburg each season. While they were there the annual Festival was put on, and the parade boasted of 52 floats and 250,000 people, the biggest event the Clausens have ever witnessed.

Building in St. Petersburg is going strong, with a million dollars worth of permits being issued monthly. Mr. Clausen even painted a house while there in order to get a little relaxation from vacationing.

They drove to Orlando one day to call on the Ted Siemro, though Mrs. Siemro was the only one home as her husband was out on a building job. The Siemros left Heights last November to make their home in Florida.

The showing of cotton dresses, sports dresses, sun suits, and children's clothes made up the first section. Then came the tailored suits, dressmakers suits, afternoon dresses, hats and accessories. Mrs. Richard Lull played the accompaniment for the show.

while Laurel L. Schindel of Chicago did the narration. A special thanks of appreciation from the Woman's club is given to Mr. Senne of the Emerald shop, who helped make this show possible.

During the first intermission, two dance numbers were given by dancing pupils of Mrs. Charlotte Schwartz. A dance called "Irene" was given by Julie Heinz and Rose Carpenter, and Ginger Forrest did a Spanish dance. Gene Aiassi, art and science teacher at the local grade school, did a "Chalk Talk" during the second intermission. ## Local young artist to exhibit work 10 days

Elroy Wilke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilke of Arlington Heights, is just 14 years old, yet his artistic talents show great promise of future success. Elroy, who has attended the local schools, has always been outstanding in his art work. During his eighth year of school Elroy began to show a particular development for oils.

Previous to that time he took lessons at the Chicago Art Institute, transferring then to take private lessons from Gene Alassi, art and science teacher at the North school. Elroy has had these private instructions for two years and now, though just a freshman in high school, has accomplished enough paintings to warrant an exhibit.

Mrs. Harry VanDeusen, owner of the Golden Miller Antique Shop 11 South State road, Arlington Heights, has made an exhibit possible by offering a corner of her shop for displaying Elroy's paintings. The general public are invited to stop in at the Golden Miller and see for themselves this young boy's talent. The paintings will be there for ten days starting today, Thursday.

There are other young art students in Arlington Heights that also show artistic cleverness. One of the outstanding is Patsy Dunavan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell Dunavan, 513 S. Dunton. She is taking lessons in costume designing from Mr. Alassi. Mention should also go to Cris Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kent, 611 N. Douglas, who is doing excellent work though he is just in the sixth grade.

Funeral Saturday for Henry Wildhagen Palatine pioneer

Funeral services will be held Saturday for Henry Wildhagen, a Palatine pioneer and former mail carrier. He died Wednesday morning. Services will be held at the Tharp funeral home at two o'clock.

Arlington high to present festival-concert April 8

The music department of Arlington Heights township high school will present a Festival-Concert in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. On the program will be the three organizations who will participate in the District Competition April 19, and the soloists and ensembles who place in the first or second division at the District Competition in Highland Park, March 23. All soloists, ensembles and organizations will play the same numbers at the concert that they have prepared for the District Competition Festival.

The high school band will play John Phillip Sousa's famous march, "King Cotton," as the opening number. Two overtures, "Eroica," based on themes from Beethoven's Third Symphony and arranged by Joseph Skornicka, and "The Red Mill," by Victor Herbert, transcribed by Campbell-Watson, have been selected for the contest and will follow the march.

A new addition to the program will be a sight-reading number. This will be a piece which is entirely unfamiliar to the students and will be issued to them following the playing of the overtures.

The boys chorus will sing Richard Rodgers' familiar "It's

A Grand Night For Singing" and "The Song of the Jolly Rogers," by C. F. Chuleigh Standish. The boys chorus will close its portion of the concert with a sight-reading number.

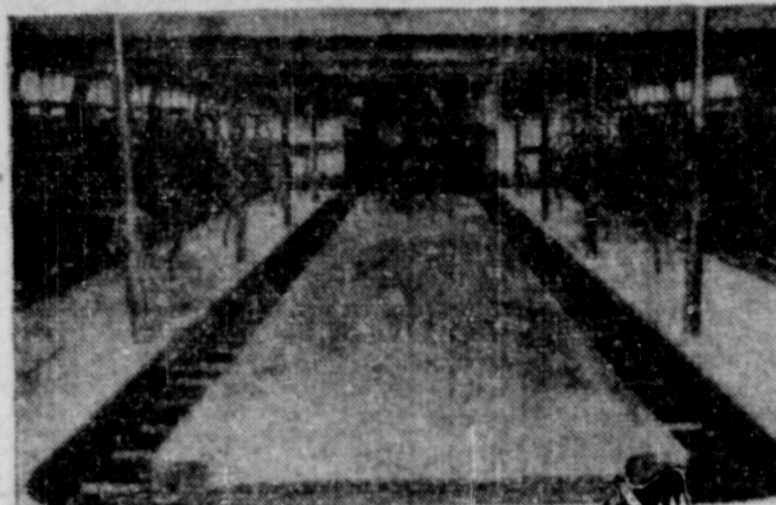

The mixed chorus will also sing two competition numbers and a sight-reading number. The prepared numbers include, "I Heard A Forest Praying," by Peter De Rose and "A Spirit Flower," by Campbell-Tipton. The mixed chorus will also sing several other numbers, among which will be Mozart's "Gloria." Admission to the concert will be twenty-five cents for all students and forty cents for adults. Tickets will be sold at the door the night of the concert.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, James M. Calligan who passed away two years ago March 30, 1945.

Time speeds on, two years have passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright
And took from us a shining light
We miss that light, and ever will
His vacant place, there is none to fill
Remembrance is the golden chain
Death tried to break, but all in vain
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never
The memory of the happy days
When we were all together
Sadly missed by wife Elsie,
Son, Duane, daughter Anita, Son-in-law Howard Beckler.

IN MEMORIAM

In cherished memory of our dear husband, son and brother, S-Sgt. Victor W. Sander, who met his death in action in Germany on March 31, 1945.

We have only your memory dear Vic,
To remember our whole life through.
But the sweetness will last forever,
As we treasure the memory of you.
Loving Wife, Mother,
Brother and Sisters.

William Wildhage

William Wildhage, one of Old Orchard's most treasured golfers, is dead. Raised on his father's farm at Glenview he learned his golf as a caddy on the Glenview golf course when Laurence Ochlerlonie was professional. That was about when Vardon and Ray, who were champions of Europe, came across to try for our National Open Title. When an American boy in his teens, Francis Ouimet knocked them both out of the tournament and won it himself. This did a great deal toward making America golf conscious. Golf became very popular. Golf clubs sprang up all over U. S. Chick Evans of Chicago won the National and the Amateur both the same year. Then Bobby Jones came along and won everything. This was the golden period for amateurs.

All this time William Wildhage was playing good golf in the low seventies and he got a lot of pleasure out of it. He belonged to golf. He was the only amateur besides Chick Evans who has broken seventy on Old Orchard. He was very colorful on the links and a grand playing companion.

So Long Bill.

I'M THRIFTY WITH TIME AND FUEL*
WHEN I COOK
THIS BROILER MEAL

There's nothing to match a broiler meal when you want to cut down on the time you spend in the kitchen. It's quick and easy... and it has the added virtue of saving on fuel, too. This broiler meal can be served in short order... but remember to boil the sweets the night before!

Select slice of ham one-half inch thick and slash the fat edge. Place ham slice in center of broiler rack about three inches from tip of flame. Brown on top side, turn and brown on second side. It will take 5 to 7 minutes per side to broil one-half inch thick slice.

Slice boiled sweet potatoes one-half inch thick, brush with fat, season with salt, and place around ham on broiler rack when turning ham. Three or four minutes before removing from broiler, arrange pineapple slices on top of ham and brown lightly.

You'll find this healthful broiler meal tempting and delicious... and so wonderfully quick and easy to prepare! Plan at least one broiler meal this week. Be sure to choose economical foods which all broil at one speed... it's a clever way to get the most from your gas range!

* SAVE GAS on COLD DAYS!

War-born delays in the expansion of the natural gas pipeline make it necessary to temporarily restrict new space heating and industrial uses... to protect the supply to homes and essential needs.

IN MEMORIAM

HERBERT LARSEN

In loving memory of our dear son and brother who was called to his eternal home March 29, 1941.

Just when his life was brightest And when his years were best, He was called from this world of sorrow

To a home of eternal rest. In God's great home he is so safe.

No suffering tears or care. We know that he is resting When the twilight ends the day. In life a beautiful memory His absence a silent grief.

He sleeps in God's beautiful garden. In the sunshine of perfect peace. Loving Mother, Sister and Brothers.

Testimonials about the new B. F. Goodrich tire are not uncommon. This extra mileage was scientifically engineered into the tires. The Cardinal, the Arlington Heights Township high school paper, is sponsoring a dance, the Stork Club Jr., on April 12. It is interesting to note that the floor show will be made up of outstanding Y. C. members.

George Wickman and Gladys Nebel, both outstanding dancers and ardent members of Rumble Inn will do a dance routine and Jo Gilman, a member of the Y. C. entertainment committee, will be on the program with a tap exhibition. Joanne Koester, an outstanding Y. C. member and Arlingtonite, will be on hand to sing a few songs in her own inimitable style.

Ramble Inn will not be open the night of the Stork Club Jr. so get out and dance to the smooth music of the Blue Notes and enjoy that floor show.

Realtors to hear advertising executive

At their next monthly meeting April 10, to be held at Sobie's Restaurant, Rand and Elmhurst rd., Mt. Prospect, the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors will have as their guest speaker H. Elton Pease, president of the Capex Co., Inc., of Evanston.

Mr. Pease, in addition to being an outstanding merchandiser of advertising displays, has made a hobby. He will speak on the value of advertising and at the same time show the Realtors some of his tricks.

Scout board of review

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-eight members of N. W. Suburban Council Executive board held a special meeting at St. Peter Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, Friday evening March 21st after an appetizing dinner with Dick Newcomb, Deputy Regional Executive, as their guest to review Council progress for 1946 and consider new business.

Dick Newcomb gave a very interesting and instructive talk on planning and setting up a Cubbing and Scouting program on a long term basis, which in his opinion is the only sound way to operate successfully in order to bring more and better benefits to our youth. He says there are over 2,000,000 Scouts and 66,000 adults in the Scouting program today.

Bill Kratt reported the 1947 finance drive to date as going very well and wishes to express his thanks on behalf of N. W. Sub. Council to everyone who so generously contributed their time, effort, and money, thus making the drive a success. Approximately $11,000 has been reported so far: Arlington Heights — $1,900, Barrington — $200, Des Plaines — $4,600, Lake Zurich — $100, Mt. Prospect — $600 and Skokie — $3,700.

Frank Potter read the treasurer's report which puts N. W. Sub. Council definitely on an excellent business basis.

Charlie Parriot said that on December 31st 1946, N. W. Sub. Council had 968 Cubs, 846 Scouts and 48 Senior Scouts registered. This means that the Cubbing and Scouting program definitely has something to offer that appeals very much to boyhood.

Otto Harz announced plans for outdoor activities are complete. The Cuboree will be held May 24 and the Camporee June 13-14-15. Twin Lakes Camp, Wisconsin will have 55 camping periods for Scouts of N. W. Sub. Council starting July 3rd to August 26th, costing $19.50 per Scout for 11 days including an overnight camp at Funk Lake, plus $6.00 for bus fare. Twin Lakes Camp extends a cordial invitation to parents and friends on Sundays. In the Scouts in morning church services, enjoy the waterfront activities in the afternoon and a special camp fire program in the evening. Bring your picnic lunch.

Stan Huntington reported Scout Advancement continues to grow and First Aid meets will be completed with the Council First Aid meet April 24th.

Bill Miles said the Permanent Camp Committee or planning is progressing satisfactorily and their recent inspection trip to Funk Lake provided helpful information in planning the overnight hike in conjunction with the Twin Lakes Camp.

Al Whitton announced that N. W. Sub. Council intends to send

Christian Science lecture

A lecture on Christian Science entitled: "Christian Science and the Power of Love," by Dr. John M. Tutt, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

WHAT IS POWER?

All human concepts of power are inseparable from the so-called law of matter: For every action there is a reaction equal in force and opposite in direction. That so-called law indicates the destructive character of matter, and its alleged life or mind, the activity of which Mrs. Eddy called "animal magnetism." To find harmony instead of the friction of reaction, we must look for power to a higher sense and source than the human mind. We must learn that power does not reside in matter or in mortal mind. We need to know that real power is the creative force which makes a thing be and do, and which sustains and maintains being and doing. We need to know this creative force is not destructive, it is not atomic, but is rather both productive and constant. We need to know this power is good, with no least content of evil; it is of God, the great and only Spirit, with no content of matter and animal magnetism. This force, being creative and protective, is the activity of divine Love, without an element of hate, selfishness, fear, or weakness. We need to know, and oh, how the nations need to know, the only real force in the universe, the power of divine Love. And this force, the irresistible potency of divine Mind, is to the human experience the positive operation of right thought on things and individuals and nations.

LOVE THE CREATOR
That divine Love signifies Father-Mother, creator, is provable by considering the modes of the human mind, which, in its imitative way, counterfeits production and reproduction. Properly reversed human conceptions, taking form in material things and human life, reveal the creative power and creation of God, the ideas of divine Love. That these creations or ideas are potent to represent their Creator cannot be doubted. The son of Omnipotence has no lack of power.

Consider how that, whereas the offspring of a human sense of love is bone of bone and flesh of flesh, the genuine creation is not a part of the Creator, but is a manifestation or impartation thereof. Science and Health says: "Love imparts the clearest idea of Deity" and "Love alone can impart the limitless idea of infinite Mind." In Science then, impartation is creation. Thus in God's creation, as Mrs. Eddy puts it in Science and Health, "Multiplication is the manifestation of God's power."

Love is creative—it has the power to make a thing (idea) be and do. Love gives form and character to the idea, it gives it force, expression and mission. Says Science and Health: "Love giveth to the least spiritual idea might, immortality and goodness, which shine through all as the blossom shines through the bud" (page 518).

10 Cub leaders to Lake Geneva Bill Forrest, Spot Harriman, Scout Ship in Barrington which Wisconsin, to take the special Byron Foote, and Hank Richter was supposed to be moved to Training course which will fit agreed that Scouting progress Camp Dan Beard, Des Plaines them to conduct new classes of made in 1946 is very encouraging was unseaworthy. The Council Cub leaders in the latest and ing. Al Baker reported that the Sea salvage.

9 lettermen back for Bison baseball nine

Bensenville high school's baseball nine appears well stocked with veterans for the 1947 Northwest conference baseball schedule with a letterman at every position awaiting good weather to work out in preparation for the conference opener April 18.

Big question for Coach Meneguini and his charges is selection of a site for the diamond. Last year's playing field is now slated for a new factory in Bensenville.

There are exactly nine lettermen returning to competition this year. Robertson has been moved from third base to catcher, and Muller from the outfield to third.

Three seniors on squad

Three seniors are included on the squad, including Joe Vuglar and Weber in the outfield, and Borg at either short or first. Other lettermen are Thollander as pitcher and short stop, Stefenson, Holstrom and first baseman, pitcher and first baseman, and Koller in the outfield.

Other players on the squad are Des Lauries, Bog Vuglar and Cohrs in the outfield, Dick Tomlinson on first base, and Bob Anderson.

Thirty-two more, all frosh-sophomores, have signified intentions of trying for the team, and will be reviewed by Coach Meneguini.

Libertyville boxers beat Toronto, 8-3

A gala international boxing program, featuring the Toronto, Canada, and Libertyville boys' clubs, was staged at the latter's ring Saturday evening with the Lake county youngsters gaining an 8-3 decision.

The crowd of 2,500 started arriving at the gym 90 minutes before the show started. Officials indicated that the gathering was the largest ever to witness a boys' boxing show in the county.

Steering the Lake county boys to victory from their corner were Frank Gilmer and Jim Nolan. After seeing Libertyville's Dick Staples and Larry Ray take the first two decisions, the Libertyville mentors saw Toronto's George Czindl, Bill Bannister and Herman Zander win the next two, their last of the evening.

Then Libertyville's powerful lineup, which proceeded to win the next six straight, Dick Weidner, son of Bill Weidner, hardworking club director, Larry Kelly, Truman Sturtevant, Jimmy Stahl, Bobby Matthews and Bill Weidner were the victors.

Bison trackmen wait for good weather

Coach John Trapp's Bensenville trackmen are awaiting good weather before outside workouts can be accomplished for the coming track season. At present, with the combination gym and auditorium being in continual use for plays and intramural sports, some of the trackmen have been running through the halls of the school in an effort to get some training.

Several boys competed in the recent Naperville Relays for the experience. Pittman tossed the shot for 39' 11". Hunt pole vaulted 9' before bowing out. John Gaspar participated in the low hurdles and relays.

Others running in relays were Garrison, Wittke, Schultz, Sick, and Borg.

Kittens close season with 61-49 victory

A 61-49 win over Itasca at Bartlett Sunday enabled the Bartlett Kittens to close their basketball season with seven wins and four losses.

There was hardly a smile in the above picture taken last week as the Merle Guild Boxing Club, Arlington Heights, prepared for their initial bouts at Fox Lake. These are a part of the lads that are training every Wednesday and Friday nights at the Presbyterian gymnasium under the auspices of the American Legion Post, and the direction of Coach Henry C. Nichols.

Although the local boys lost more than half their local bouts with Fox Lake Saturday, they are gunning for a clean sweep when the Fox Lake boxers invade the Arlington ring next month in return matches.

Arlington Legion is sponsoring a two-night tournament April 25 and 26 which will be open to boys from other communities as well. Winners of each weight class from 70 pounds up, will be given a boxing uniform and other prizes.

Friday night, the local boxers will mix a few at the Scarsdale

Improvement Association meeting at the fieldhouse. The Mt. Prospect VFW has invited them down to their meeting April 14.

Winners at Fox Lake Saturday were Maher, Ellis, L. Richmeyer, Lyons and Crockett. Technical knockouts were scored by Crockett and Lyons.

"Several others boxed to such close decisions that Arlington could have very well taken six more victories out of the nineteen bouts," proudly stated Coach Nichols.

Frosh key to success

Palatine's 30 track hopefuls see moderate track season

A squad of 30 varsity track hopefuls are working out in the Palatine gym daily in preparation for the season which is scheduled to open in a dual meet here with Libertyville next week, Thursday. J. E. Stutzman and G. A. McElroy are sharing the track coaching duties this year.

Palatine is not expected to be very strong this year but may develop into a fairly well balanced team as there are a number of boys working on each event and some of them show promise in spite of the lack of experience.

Palatine lettermen are Stephan in the sprints; Rogers in the hurdles, Spoo, discus; Weinacht, shot; Werner and Hestrup, pole vault; Wente, mile run; Henker, 880 and 440; and Hahn, high jump and 880. It appears that Palatine will have fair relay teams for the Palatine Relays but nothing outstanding. There are a number of boys who show hurdling possibilities including Pepper, Hestrup, Orzolek, Hahn, Steinbrink, Weinacht and Stephan.

Ross and Collignon are good sophomore prospect in the weight events as is Newport, a sophomore, in the half mile. Case, a junior, scored well in frosh-soph meets last year in print events and will probably run the 220 or 440. Most likely to be the top men on the squad this year are Werner, most consistent scorer last year in the pole vault, and Spoo in the weights. Spoo has thrown the discus over 120 feet this year in one of the few outdoor practices.

List pairings for cage tourney at Stadium next week

Basketball's "world's series," featuring 14 of the nation's leading professional quintets and representing the cage sport's most rabid sections of the United States, will be seen in action beginning Saturday night, April 5 at the Chicago Stadium.

Three first round games are listed for Saturday, April 5 and three more on Sunday evening, April 6. The Big Quarterfinal card will be played Monday, April 7; semifinals on Wednesday, April 9; and the title contest and third place play-off will be Thursday, April 10. The ultimate winner of the tournament automatically qualifies to face the nation's college all-stars in November at the Chicago Stadium.

First-round schedule Saturday, April 5

8 p. m. Oshkosh, Wis., All-Stars vs. New York Mohawks.
9 p. m. Pittsburgh, Pa., Pirates vs. Anderson, Ind., Packers.
10 p. m. Midland, Mich., Dows vs. Syracuse, N. Y., Nationals.
Sunday, April 6
8 p. m. Sheboygan, Wis., Redskins vs. Portland, Ore., Indians.
9 p. m. New York Renegades vs. Toledo, Ohio, Jeeps.
10 p. m. Baltimore, Md., Bullets vs. Moline, Ill., Blackhawks.

Good freshman material in squad of 30

With 30 freshmen working on track this year, the future prospects are very bright for the frosh appear to have much talent in their squad. Frosh-Soph team prospects are the best since the days when Hollinger, Cipri, Senne and Trepus came into high school and won varsity letters as freshmen in the 440, 880, and mile events. In fact several freshmen may be good enough this year to win varsity awards. If they do come through in the sprints and distance events Palatine may have a good team.

Saturday some of the Palatine boys will be taken to the Oak Park Relays. The Pirates are entered in the class "B" medal relay, the individual events, and some of the afternoon program. Most of the boys will go on to the Chicago Stadium to see the Chicago Relays in the evening. The Palatine lettermen's club has 20 tickets for the big event at the stadium.

Libertyville here next Thursday

Next Thursday the Pirates expect to have the score doubled on them by an experienced Libertyville squad if the weather gets good enough to have the meet. The following Wednesday they expect to get a drubbing at Arlington but April 15 West Chicago should offer competition more in Palatine's class.

After these three duals the Pirates will practice hard for the Palatine Relays April 26, where they hope to win their share of medals. In May the Pirates meet Bensenville, Grant, Antioch and Barrington before the conference meet to be held at Palatine on Tuesday, May 21.

18 points in 58 seconds gives third place to Mt. Prospect

A big, rugged Harvard team copped the First Annual Invitational Tournament sponsored by the American Legion of Palatine by stopping a fast Elmhurst team 58-42. In the consolation finals Mt. Prospect American Legion team finished fast to salvage third place over Mike Rose's West Side A. C. 63-61.

The Harvard team got off to a quick lead of 4-0 on baskets by McDonald and Moede and never were seriously threatened as they pulled away quarter by quarter. The first quarter ended with Harvard leading 15-11 on baskets by Moede and McDonald and were ahead at the half 27-21. The third quarter ended with Harvard leading Elmhurst by a 42-31 count.

It was here that Elmhurst elected to play a rough and aggressive game, but the big out-fit from up North let them press and took advantage of the fouls to extend their lead to a 58-42 win. The Harvard team was big with Moede and Diggs doing the rebounding and McDonald, a small diminutive forward, leading the scoring with a remarkable eye for the basket. The combination proved to be too great a handicap for the Elmhurst team although they were augmented by several Elmhurst College stars, including captain-elect for 1948, Hank Kindl.

It was left to the Mt. Prospect American Legion team to pull an exhibition the likes of which was never seen on this or any other court and will likely never be seen again as they whipped a good Waukegan team 63-61 for third place.

18 points, 58 seconds

The Mt. Prospect team composed primarily of Arlington veterans and augmented by big Al Stroker and Bill Kleiner, seemed hopelessly beaten as they trailed 57-39 with four minutes of play remaining. Waukegan inserted several substitutes and things seemed to remain balanced as Waukegan led 61-45 with 58 seconds remaining in the game.

It was at this point that the impossible occurred. Mayerck potted two shots from 17 feet and Mt. Prospect seemed to gain new life as they spread-eagled the floor with a pressing defense. It was here that Waukegan replaced their substitutes with their regulars but this did not slow the Mt. Prospect boys down as Page intercepted three passes and quickly converted them into six points. Stroker added one and Page and Mayerck also added one bucket apiece to bring the count up to 59-61 with Waukegan still leading and calling for time out.

As play resumed Waukegan finally got the ball over the ten second line only to have it stolen by Jim Millay, who dribbled the length of the court to tie the count at 61 apiece.

Waukegan then called their sixth time out and were assessed a technical foul which was missed but gave Mt. Prospect possession of the ball. Jim Millay took the ball out of bounds with nine seconds of play remaining and passed in to Al Stroker who drove through the middle and parted the nets with a 15-footer to give Arlington a 63-61 win and the third place trophy.

Never before has such a seemingly impossible exhibition been seen on local courts and it won't be soon forgotten either by the fans that witnessed it nor the boys that competed in it.

First round games

Palatine and Elmhurst opened the tourney and Elmhurst won going away 39-32 as the Palatine team fell apart in the last four minutes. Palatine trailed from the beginning as Frega of Elmhurst hit the net consistently to move into a halftime advantage of 20-14, but the Realtors came back in the third quarter and trailed 31-29 at the end of this period. During the fourth quarter the Realtors could negotiate the basket for only 3 points by Dick Stinson as Elmhurst scored eight to win the game 39-32 and eliminate the home team.

In the second game of the opening night of tourney play, the strong Howell Mfg. Co. of St. Charles fell by the wayside as Mike Rose's West Side A. C. team of Waukegan dumped them 58-54. Waukegan got off to a torrid start as little Jim Melius led his team mates to a 20-11 first quarter advantage and extended it to a halftime lead of 32-20. Morton of Howell finally got rolling and they began to threaten Waukegan seriously by tying up the score at 52 all but again Melius put Waukegan out of danger with two fast baskets in the final seconds of play. Melius led the St. Charles scoring with 14 baskets and five free tosses for 33 points. Morton led the St. Charles team with 20 points on 6 baskets and 8 for 8 free tosses.

Second night

The second night of play saw the highly touted Crystal Lake high school team playing under the colors of the Pine Moor Hotel of Crystal Lake dropped from the tournament as the Mt. Prospect team dumped them, 44-40, after trailing through the game. The big offensive battle that was expected between Holt of Crystal Lake and Stroker of Arlington never materialized, as they both played defensive ball throughout the game.

Junie Becker's four baskets in the last three minutes of play broke up the game as Crystal Lake led 40-36 up to this point. Becker led the Mt. Prospect scoring with 12 points and was closely followed by Page with 11. Schroeder tallied 12 for Crystal Lake.

In the feature game Thursday evening the Harvard Merchants subdued the Itasca Walther League team after a terrific tussle which ended at the half with the score all knotted up at 24 all. However, in the second half the effects of not having any reserve strength began to show on Itasca.

Plan two day baseball school at Arlington Hts.

Pro scout to watch players for possibilities

Preliminary arrangements have been made between Joe Pastor, Chicago area scout for the Atlanta Baseball Club of the Southern Association, the Arlington Heights Park Board and Ed Wahl, manager of the Arlington Redwings, for the holding of a two-day baseball school in Recreation Park May 3 and 4.

The object of this school is to give every boy who has ambitions to play professional baseball, a chance to demonstrate his ability. High school boys and American Legion Junior players are not eligible. If any boy demonstrates ability which the scout believes can be developed to assure a professional baseball career, he will be given a chance to sign a contract.

On the two days, Saturday and Sunday, workouts will be conducted under the supervision of Scout Pastor from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. It is probable that Don Peeters and Ed Wahl will assist in the activities. Candidates must pay their own expenses for board and transportation and must furnish their own equipment. The Atlanta Club will not be responsible for any personal loss or injury which may occur.

Articles publicizing this baseball school will appear in Chicago and the Sporting News, official baseball paper. It is expected that boys from all parts of Northern Illinois will show up for the affair.

Additional details will be given in succeeding articles in this paper. If you are interested in the possibility of playing minor league baseball, this is your chance to get a start.

All-state tourney team

The selections, based on tournament performances:

First team—Ted Beach, Champaign, 6-1, F; Charles Grover, Dundee, 6-2, F; Bob Owens, Paris, 6-2, C; Jake Fendley, South Shore, 6-0, G; Frank Gladson, Pinckneyville, 5-8, G.

Second Team—Fred Major, Champaign, 6-1, F; Dick Brogren, East Rockford, 6, F; Don Williams, Pinckneyville, 6-4, C; Charles Busby, Pekin, 6-2, G; Sam Miranda, Collinsville, 5-9, G.

to represent the school and that means the best of eight teams he had brought up to the finals in 12 years. Their tournament shooting of over 33 per cent certainly bore out this opinion.

At Paris a boy who plays basketball cannot play football and he must run cross country in the fall. Eveland's boys won the state cross country running championship last fall, a fine preparation for a grueling basketball season and particularly the long tournament grind.

Pinckneyville's young team came up fast at season's finish

Coach Trout, veteran Centralia basketball mentor, sat just a row below us at the state meet and had a big smile while Pinckneyville wallowed Kewanee before a stunned crowd. Trout said that Pinckneyville was rated down south as one of the best but the upstart sports writers would not take them seriously. They beat Centralia out of the state this year by hitting 16 baskets in 31 shots in the sectional final.

They had started slowly with seven defeats early in the year but moved up fast with 18 straight before the state tournament. The slow start is explained by the fact that Pinckneyville had only two seniors on their squad of 10.

125-pound Frank Gladson a tournament star

Frank Gladson, a puny looking 125 pound guard, was the best dribbler we have even seen in a high school ball and is a junior at Pinckneyville. He always brought the ball up the court alone as his four team mates went down court and got set for him to bring the ball to them. Many an outstanding boy got a laugh from the crowd the way Gladson out-manuevered him as he tried to stop the little dribbling marvel down in the back court.

Gladson averaged 14 points a game besides having both ends of two one hand shots. He was without question the favorite tournament player with the fans and deserved the all state first team rating he received.

Officiating close and consistent

State tournament officiating was the closest and most consistent of any tourney we have seen. There was more crowd booing and poor sportsmanship met Friday morning between sessions of the state tournament and made several recommendations concerning basketball rules. They favored changing from four minutes to two minutes the period at the end of the game when time is out on all dead balls. They feel that the games have been made too long under the four minute rule. They also favor allowing a boy on offense to be in the free throw lane as long as he pleases with the three second rule only applying to the time when he has the ball in his possession.

Art Bergstrom of Libertyville was chairman in charge of the meeting while Ernest Lieberman of Chicago is to be chairman for the coming year.

It takes good shooting to get to the state

That it takes good basket shooting to win at the state and to get there is shown by the shooting averages of the state tournament teams this year. Paris had a 35.5% average from the field for four state tournament games and Pinckneyville, winner of third place shot 31.9. The latter made 17 out of 39 shots in their third place game while Paris hit 22 out of 52 in the championship battle. Paris also sank 17 out of 20 free throws in the final. Pinckneyville had close to a 40% field goal shooting percentage for the season and will be out to take the state next year with all-tournament Gladson and six foot three inch Davis and Johnson returning. They say that at both Paris and Pinckneyville they open the gym at 7:00 a. m. all the school year for boys to practice shooting. You cannot get far in basketball if you cannot hit better than 25% of your shots.

Doug Mills likes Grover, Fendley and Beach

Doug Mills, University of Illinois cage coach remarked at the state tournament that he would like to have Grover of Dundee and Beach of Champaign for the Illinois team next year and he especially liked the quick, hard driving play of Fendley of South Shore who he thought would make a fine college guard. Owens of Paris said that the best player he had come up against all year was the South Shore star who scored 13 points against him.

Officials work in pairs This year the state tournament officials worked in teams through regional, sectional and the state tournament. For Wilbur Layman of Lincoln and Sam Gillespie of St. Elmo it was the Open downtown sale of tickets for Cub opener, city series

Because of the big demand for tickets to the Chicago Cubs' National League opener with Pittsburgh on Tuesday, April 15, and the first week end games of the season at Wrigley Field against the world champion St. Louis Cardinals on Saturday, April 26, and Sunday, April 27, ticket offices at Wrigley Field and Lytton's Store are now open.

Early mail reservations indicate capacity or near-capacity crowds for the opener and the two-game Cardinal series, according to George Doyle, ticket manager.

Reserved box seat tickets for the Pittsburgh game on April 17, and the Cincinnati series on April 21, 22 and 23 also will be on sale.

The Cubs also will have reserved seat tickets available at both box offices for the April 11 and 13 spring city series contests with the White Sox, scheduled at Wrigley Field.

The Lytton's box office is located at State and Jackson, third floor. Wrigley Field ticket office is at Clark and Addison.

Doug Mills gives fans right to boo

Doug Mills' views on the subject of fans' booing was expressed recently by the director of athletics at the University of Illinois. He maintains the customer who buys a ticket buys the right to complain.

"The admission price," Mills says, "includes the right to criticize the game. It is American to express your feelings, to applaud or denounce and to criticize." But I do not think that we should condone obvious booing. And I certainly think visiting players should receive the same courtesy as the home players on the free throw line.

"There are too many people who feel they ought to reform everyone. It's a good thing to let off some steam at these games. And if the crowd is excited, for the players realize they're playing before a crowd."

As was expected after viewing Waukegan and Elmhurst play their opening games, a close battle was expected Friday night when the two teams met and they didn't disappoint the fans as they matched baskets throughout the game, but Elmhurst managed to score the last one and win 54-52.

The Elmhurst team was smart enough to know that they would have to stop Melius, 5' 8" forward of Waukegan, to win the game. They managed to slow him down temporarily by having two men guard him, but he still managed to cage six baskets and 14 out of 18 charity tosses for 26 points to lead both teams in scoring. Thompson led the winners with 13 points being closely followed by Van Voorst with 12.

Tournament notes

The tournament was the first of its kind ever held in Palatine and was a success financially, even though the host team was eliminated in the first round.

Little Jim Melius was the crowd's favorite as he played with the big boys and led the scoring with 30 points in the three games he appeared in. His sportsmanship and clean playing won him that honor the hard way. No one that saw the Mt. Prospect-Waukegan game will find it easy to forget the way the American Legion team came back and won third place.

The all-tournament team of this writer who witnessed all games, is as follows: Melius, forward. (Waukegan) McDonald, forward. (Harvard) Moede, center. (Harvard) Della Velle, guard. (Waukegan) Fie-ga, guard. (Elmhurst).

LaLonde Realtors in

LaLonde Realtors will travel to Rockford to compete in the Inter-State tournament at the St. Thomas Coliseum from March 24 to April 4. The Realtors face Dewitt's City Service quintet of Rochelle on Wednesday, March 26, at 9:00 p. m. The tournament squad consists of Hildebrandt, Hollinger, Stinson, Millay, Snyder, Kolze, Stroker, Vogt, Ray and Bob Howes.

Par for Milking

Three minutes per cow is par for milking. Tests to find which system produced the most of milk showed that three minutes obtained maximum production over a long period and that prolonged stripping finally reduced milk total flow.

Chicago Dog show sets new records

All records were surpassed in the closing of entries for the All-breed Dog Show, to be held in the International Amphitheatre, Chicago, March 29 and 30, under the auspices of the International Kennel Club.

Officials of the show announce that 1550 dogs were entered by the final day for accepting them, March 17. This compares with an entry of 1362 dogs at the same show last year.

Heading the entry among all the breeds are American Cocker Spaniels with 125 dogs listed for these competitions. Dachshunds are a close second with 112 dogs for the Specialty of the Dachshund Club of the Great Lakes. A world record entry for Staffordshire Terriers has been established.

Boxers head the entry among the 18 Working dog breeds that will be seen at this event with 94 entered. A close second in the Working dog group are the 80 Collies—a record number of this breed for the International Show.

Although the International show will not open until Saturday morning, March 29, two breed specialty shows—English Spaniels and Kerry Blue Terriers—will take place in the International Amphitheatre on Friday evening, March 28.

13th ANNIVERSARY

Egg Grades

Practically the only difference between AA and A grades of eggs, which may sell at a differential of as much as 10 cents a dozen, is that of age, indicated by a slightly larger air cell and a slightly more liquid condition of the white portion of the A grade egg as compared with the AA grade. The larger air cell in the A grade is caused by evaporation, but none of the nutritive value has left the egg and it is just as wholesome.

Car stealers wanted for 19 stop sign 'no stops' and 90 mile city speed

Illinois state police have several reasons for wanting to find the driver who stole a 1946 Buick sedan belonging to Kenneth Shoup, Barrington tavern owner, early last week. In addition to the larceny charge, they want to book him for speeding through Elgin streets at 90 miles per hour and for going through 19 stop lights in that city.

Shoup parked the car beside the Green Grill about 4:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and didn't miss it until he closed the place at 1:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. Evidently the car was stolen shortly before 8:00 o'clock, because state police picked up the trail at that time at the intersection of routes 63 and 72 when the driver drove through a stop sign. They chased him through Elgin without catching him.

The car was found in Barrington Wednesday night.

Conversion of NAS Barracks to GI homes soon

The long awaited conversion of a group of barracks at the Glenview Naval Air Station into apartments for GIs is expected to get underway very shortly, a spokesman of the Cook County Housing authority announced this week. This means that apartments should be ready for occupancy July 1.

One hundred and twenty, or more, two and three room apartments have been planned. Rental will be from $40 to $50. The apartments will have utilities and will be furnished to some extent. Recreational facilities for children will be provided. Excellent bus service, now in operation, will prove a popular transportation accommodation.

Persons interested in securing additional information or submitting application for an apartment are advised to write to Ira J. Bach, executive director of Cook County Housing authority, 203 North Wabash avenue, Chicago, requesting an application blank for a Naval Air station apartment.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

F. J. FREEMAN

April 1st (1946)—The brown thrasher is back, and no foolin'! The birds have started using our bird bath. I made it with fifteen cents worth of sand and cement by scooping a hole in the lawn in the shade of an old apple tree and lining it with cement. It is easy to fill and easy to clean with a broom, and whether it costs fifteen cents or fifteen dollars, the birds do not care so long as there is clean water in it. Although we sometimes wonder when the humble bath for a mud puddle in the alley. Maybe he likes the feel of mud between his toes!

April 2nd—The field sparrow arrived last night, and we heard him sing this morning. The cardinal sings each day now. Saw the brown creeper again. The only thing unusual about this bird is that it builds its nest on the side of a tree under a loose piece of bark.

April 9th—The yellow-bellied sapsucker was drilling holes in a pine tree outside our window today. When he left, the ruby-crowned kinglet came to sip the sap at one of the drillings.

April 11th—Heard the white-throated sparrow's sweet song.

April 13th—The dutchman's breeches, bloodroot and violets are blooming at the Arboretum.

April 14th—My wife, Cornelia, and the two boys, John and Peter, saw the purple finch in the pine grove at the Elk Grove Forest Preserve today. I missed them. They also saw a flock of golden-crowned kinglets.

April 15th—Saw the blue-headed vireo, hermit thrush and phoebe this day.

April 16th—While over in Stonegate I saw my first upland plover in the fields right off the Northwest Highway. I was able to drive up close and get a good look at them. These game birds were almost killed off by hunters and loss of breeding grounds until the Federal laws stepped in to protect them. They are now making a comeback, but are not so plentiful as meadowlarks like they used to be.

April 17th—Saw a pair of Wilson snipe feeding in a wet meadow near a pool of water. It is amusing to see them probe in the mud up to their eyes with their long bill. I also saw killdeer, a great blue heron and a flock of tree sparrows this afternoon.

April 21st—This Easter Sunday we drove to the Barrington slough to look for ducks and shore birds. The shore birds can be found in almost any pool of water in the fields and pastures. We identified the lesser yellowlegs and the pectoral sandpiper. These birds frequent mud flats and shallow water where they feed on insects and the mud that. We also saw a pair of shoveler ducks and several blue-winged teal in a small pasture pool. At the slough were hundreds of coot and many teal ring-necked ducks and pied-billed grebes. While at the slough we heard the whip-poor-will.

April 22nd—The myrtle warbler, the first warbler to be seen this season, has arrived. It is a common warbler a trifle smaller than a house sparrow with a grey and black back, bright yellow rump, crown and side patches, and the male has heavily streaked sides and breast in addition. Found a red-shouldered hawk's nest in the woods back of the house.

April 23rd—Visited Elk Grove Preserve this afternoon and found the spotted sandpiper, the American bittern and the Wilson warbler. Also saw bell flowers, trillium and various ferns. The boys spotted the first bob-o-link and goldfinch of the year.

April 24th—While on business in Prospect Heights I looked into the east end of the slough in that village which is a natural wild life refuge. I saw there a flock of eleven teal, many greater and lesser yellow-legs, five Baird's sandpipers, a palm warbler and a Virginia rail. The Virginia rail is a cute looking bird about the size of a blue jay. It is wary but not scary. This one played peek-a-boo with me through a willow thicket. It had a long neck, long red bill and red legs, rich brown back and rufous breast, grey cheeks and a short stubby tail which stuck straight up. Under the tail the feathers are black marked with white, and they seem to fluff out like the ruffled skirts of a chorus girl doing the can-can.

April 29th—Have seen the Philadelphia vireo, solitary sandpiper, mallard ducks and swamp sparrow — the last three species in the cat tail marsh at Elk Grove. A pair of white-throated

Hot springs form mud volcanoes in Antarctic

Dark mounds of apparently bare earth discovered by Byrd expedition fliers in an "oasis" of ice-free Antarctic lakes may be "mud volcanoes" of unprecedented size but similar to those in the hot springs area of Yellowstone Park, William E. Powers, professor of geography at Northwestern University said today.

Although scientists can only speculate until further investigation, he said, a possible explanation is that the "oasis" is the result of hot springs heated by molten lava that may possibly lie hundreds or even thousands of feet below the Antarctic surface.

"Mud volcanoes are mounds of sediment deposited by hot springs," Prof. Powers said. "The spring water is heated by molten lava and rises to the earth's surface through narrow openings. As the water emerges and spreads out its velocity is checked, causing it to deposit sediment. In addition, materials that have been dissolved in the heated water are precipitated as the water cools after reaching the surface."

"At Yellowstone the mud volcanoes are only 10 or 15 feet high as compared with the 500-foot mounds reported in the Antarctic."

Prof. Powers is a specialist in geomorphology, which deals with the configuration of the earth's surface. He said that normally, where molten lava is not present, the earth's temperature begins to increase at about 50 feet below the surface.

"If one penetrated deeper into the earth he would find that the temperature increases about 1 degree for each additional 100 feet," he said. "The temperature at 50 feet usually is equal to the average temperature for that geographical area. In Chicago that is about 50 degrees, with the result that spring water in this area is usually about that temperature."

"In the Antarctic the average temperature is below freezing, so that in the absence of molten lava, spring water emerging with a temperature of 125 degrees would need to rise from more than 10,000 feet below the surface."

Unlike the Arctic, which lies relatively close to the United States, Europe, and Russia, the Antarctic is remote from the world powers, he said, and so sparrows are constantly at our feeding platform. The apple trees are in full bloom, and the narcissus and lilacs are starting to blossom. The weather has been clear and cold all week, and on the night of the 27th the thermometer dropped to 34 degrees. This is spring around Chicago for you!

Christian Science lecture

Mr. B. Palmer Lewis, C. S. B. of New York City, a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass., delivered a lecture entitled "Christian Science: Its Teaching and Practice," Monday evening, March 24, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Barrington, in the Palatine High School auditorium.

Mr. Lewis opened his lecture with the following words of Christ Jesus as given in the eleventh chapter of Matthew: "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me: for I am meek and lowly in heart: and ye shall find rest unto your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light."

How welcome is that promise to mankind in these times, for today, in a disordered, war-shocked world, there is sweeping over humanity an irresistible urge for spiritual enlightenment.

It is only stating a fact, he said, to say that there are thousands of people in the world today yearning to know God and experience His protective care has been gained through the study and practice of Christian Science, as given to the world by its Discoverer and Founder, Mary Baker Eddy, in her textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." Through its teachings, the promises of Jesus are made as available today as they were at the beginning of the Christian era.

The lecturer then asked, What is Christian Science? And he answered that Christian Science is the Science of salvation. It teaches divine law. It interprets God to man and sets forth divine rules for the demonstration of universal harmony.

Christian Science is founded on the teachings of Jesus, his apostles, and the prophets. Mr. Lewis affirmed that the Tenets of the Christian Science church is: "As adherents of Truth, we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal life" (Science and Health, p. 497.)

The lecturer declared that it remained for Mrs. Eddy, the daughter of a New Hampshire farmer, Mark Baker, and his wife Abigail, to discover the method and science of the Master's teaching and explain his mission. She practiced and gave again to the world what centuries before Jesus had given to mankind in ancient Palestine. This gentle New England woman gave her discovery to the world under the name of Christian Science.

For years this devoted woman struggled to teach this truth to humanity. She had discovered the spiritual laws taught and practiced by Jesus.

Christian Science does not ask one to believe blindly, Mr. Lewis pointed out. One might believe in the multiplication table, but unless he understood it, it could be of no real assistance to him. Christian Science asks that you seek, study, and learn of God; strive to understand Christian Science; then, through its teaching and by your practice you may prove the mission of Christ Jesus was not in vain. You may demonstrate to your own satisfaction that the power which Jesus of Nazareth proved to be present on the hills of Judea and upon the shores of the Galilean Sea, is as present and available here and now today, to you, as it was to him nineteen centuries ago. Truth never changes.

In conclusion the speaker stated that the world needs "practical, operative Christian Science" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 207). With it, one may say to the weary and heavy-laden, "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away" (Rev. 21:3, 4).

For You... This Healing and Renewal

The refreshing new understanding of the Bible, and the resulting release from disease and other distresses, which have come for unnumbered thousands through Christian Science, are available no less for you—and for all.

The complete explanation of Christian Science and its method of proving the availability of good, or God, and therefore of health, inspiration, worthwhile activity, and happiness, under all conditions, is given in simple, direct language in the Christian Science textbook.

Easter sunrise service at Soldier Field

Weather favoring, a record crowd of over 60,000 is expected to attend the 15th annual Greater Chicago Easter Sunrise Service in mammoth Soldier Field on Sunday, April 6, at 6:30 a. m. to hear a Resurrection morning message from Dr. Howard W. Ferrin of Providence, R. I., and a talented array of singers and musicians telling the Easter story in song and hymns.

The great service which has become one of the nation's outstanding religious events is open to everyone. It is sponsored by a group of 20 laymen in the Chicago area who start their working and planning each year at Thanksgiving time. There is no admission charge.

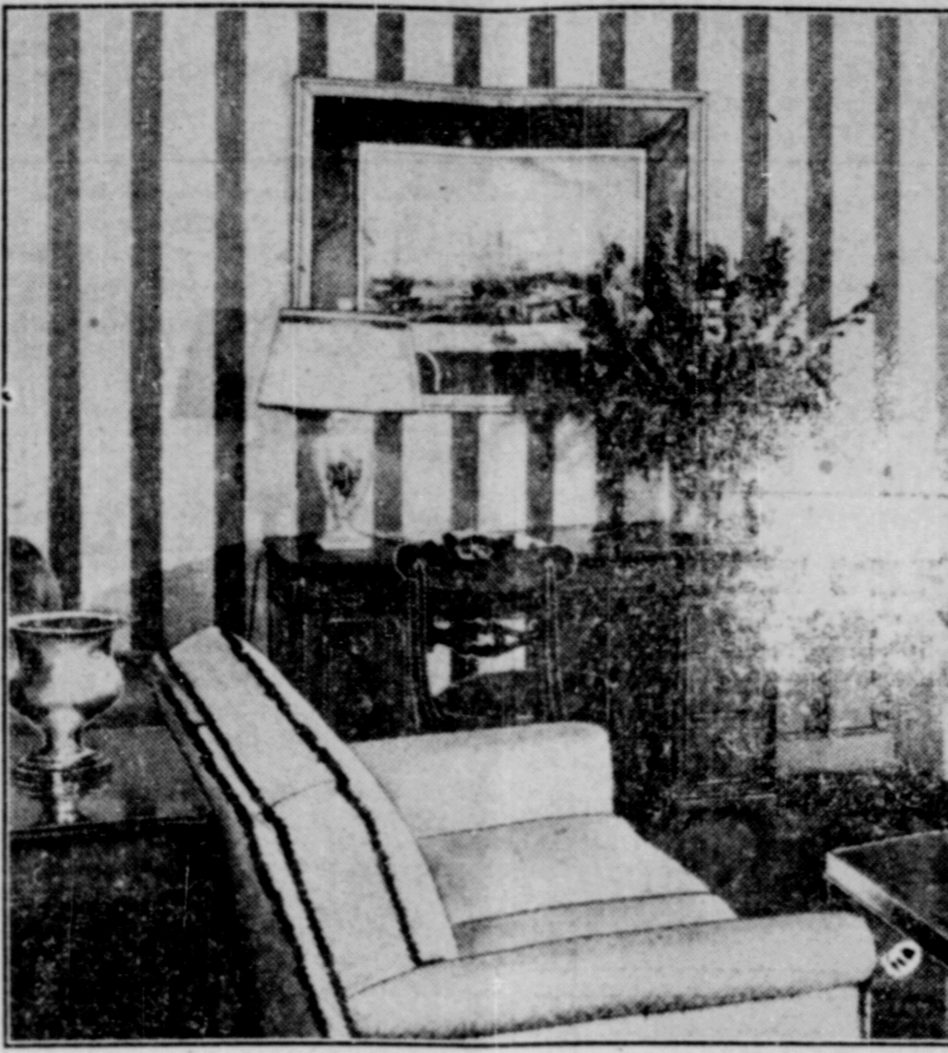

Soldier Field again will be decorated by the huge 110 foot cross flanked by the Easter theme, "Christ Is Risen" in letters 14 feet high, directly in front of the platform which will be erected in the middle of the field.

Previous to the message by Dr. Ferrin the musical program will include solos by G. Beverly Shea, network Gospel baritone over Club Time, a Brasstet from Wheaton College and 2 65-voiced mixed Chorus-Choir from North Park College in Chicago, directed by Prof. Donald Olsen.

Heating Systems

There are three types of central heating systems, each of which may be automatically fired. These are hot water, steam and warm air. There is no relation between the type of heating system and the fuel. In other words, any one of the three kinds of central heating systems may be fired with any one of the three kinds of fuels. This means that the owner has an option in the choice of the heating system and in the fuel.

Smart Rooms Wear Stripes

FASHIONABLY important and drawing special recognition in today's scheme of decoration is wall paper. Whether you are furnishing a new home or redecorating an old one, one of the cleverest ways to start out is to settle the wall problem. Once this has been decided, it is smart to coordinate the rest of your furnishing plans to the background the walls provide.

For example, choose a stripe in a wide, rich green and white, to accent the mood of a living room. This type of wall paper furnishes a dramatic background for the classic simplicity of the decor.

There are variations on the stripe theme—the width and coloring should keynote the desired formality or informality you want to emphasize.

Striped paper can be utilized in a myriad of ways—use it on all four walls—use it in combination with plain papered walls, either just one wall of the room, or on all but one wall. Stripes can be used most effectively coordinated with floral print paper.

There are so many stripes available today, in all sizes and colors, that it is possible to choose the one which will contribute the most to your room's charm and livability.

Enlist

Enrollments in the Naval Reserve continued to show a sharp increase during the past month, with the Chicago Recruiting District again leading the country, it was announced by Chief J. W. Jackson of Public Relations for Navy Recruiting, Chicago. Recent enrollees from this locality include Kenneth Snedden, Robert Provis and John Schoppe, all of Bensenville.

Chicago Navy Recruiting officials also announced that young men between the ages of 17 and 18½ and 30 to 40 who have had no prior military service are now also eligible for enlistment in the Naval Reserve for inactive duty. Duty to a recent change in policy Ex-Army and Marine Corps personnel may now in many cases enroll in the Naval Reserve in a rating equivalent to the rank they held when discharged.

More detailed information can be obtained by contacting the U. S. Navy Recruiting Station, 321 S. Plymouth, Chicago, or by telephoning Harrison 6886.

Red fox is controversial animal to friend and foe

The red fox has been described as the best-loved and most hated, wisest, smelliest, daintiest, thinnest, sleekest, most flea-bitten and controversial animal in America. In some sections of the country where he is hunted by packs of hounds while their owners sit around a camp fire all night long, listening to the music of the chase, and in others where they follow the hounds on horseback at breakneck speed, the quickest way to earn the hatred of your neighbors is to kill a fox. In others there are organized fox drives and they are shot as killers of game birds and the farmers' poultry. Also, he is trapped for his valuable fur. But he survives and there are many foxes in Cook County. Few people ever see one.

The red fox is a small member of the dog family, standing from 14 to 16 inches high at the shoulder and weighing from 7 to 12 pounds, with a long nose, pointed ears and a long bushy tail. The legs and ears are black; the cheeks, underparts and tip of the tail are white; the rest of his fur is brightly colored with autumn-toned shades of pinkish red, burnt orange and tawny yellow. Being very lean and narrow-chested, his footprints are almost in a straight line. They yap frequently in short squalls ending in a long gurgling sound. Rarely, one may howl much like a bobcat.

The dog fox and the vixen mate for life. The young, usually four or five in number, are born about the last of March in a den which is frequently the enlarged burrow of a woodchuck. After the pups are weaned, foxes spend the rest of the year, including winter, in the open. They prefer hilly partly-wooded country, usually avoiding tall grass, heavy weed growth, tangled brush and briars, and swampy ground. They love to sit on an open knoll listening and sniffing the wind.

Probably 90% of their food is rabbits and mice. Fruit and acorns, insects, and other small mammals such as shrews and squirrels, in that order, are the other food items most commonly eaten. Investigations show that relatively few chickens or game birds are taken. However, the fox is omnivorous and what he eats depends mostly on what is available.

So shut your chicken-house door, Richard.

In the 19th century a farm boy accidentally dropped a bottle of coal oil into a horse tank and noticed that the floating oil killed the mosquito larvae. Grown to manhood, L. O. Thank you for calling our attention to your inefficient editing of our ad "Geese for sale." ## It Happened Here

Way Station
New is the chamber swept and clean. With rushes spread, fragrant and green; From the best of our store is the table laid. The wholesome leaf, crusty, home made; The linen the coarse is fresh and fair; For a weary Guest these things we prepare; And they who come to dine with our Guest are sinners and publicans, we with the rest. So these are the ones with whom He will eat. Ere He goes on His way thorns and cross to meet. Mr. and Mrs. M. and Mrs. Neighbor stopped on the corner for a little chit-chat. "Well," said Mrs. M. "all this fuss about sending food to Europe is the bunk. Better keep it at home—we can use it." "That's nonsense," said Mr. M. "No one starves to death in this country if they'll just let out a yell. Such talk—taint Christian—I'm ashamed of you." "Well," said Mrs. Neighbor, placatingly, "I've been listening to the radio and maybe you ain't giv' him the right brand of coffee. Now you try." ## The story of the three bears and Goldilocks

GOLDILOCKS

Once upon a time there were three bears.

There was Shopper Bear, who had a big gruff voice, especially loud every Friday and Saturday.

There was Commuter Bear, who had a medium voice, but was never around to express it. And there was Herald Bear, who thought he had a voice, but evidently few people agreed with him.

The three bears lived in a house between Mt. Prospect and Palatine. The house had been built about 1850, was remodeled in 1915, and again in 1930, but now again needed remodeling. Because all the rooms were not crowded, especially the kitchen, den and work room. The house was not big enough for all of the other bears who had moved in with them.

One bright, sunny day, a pretty young girl by the name of Village Board Goldilocks walked into the house. She was hungry and went to the kitchen to get something to eat, but there were so many others trying to get at the same cupboard there was not even a place for her to park her hat and coat. Every room downstairs in that house was the same way—not enough chairs in which to rest. She was tired out. She could not understand why steps were not taken to end the confusion by the people who owned the cupboards and stocked them so well with food and the owners of the other rooms in the house which were stocked with articles to wear and the other things that Goldilocks and her friends wanted to buy.

Goldilocks finally found a place away from the noise and bustle. She went to the Council think it's some prize fighter training for a battle, although the red cap might lead one to believe that it might be a member of the fistic fraternity.

The cyclist will be Joe Clettenberg, supt. of the consolidated school district, who is on sick leave for the balance of the year, and is cycling his way back to health on a new fangled three speed bike that he's mighty proud of.

Joe says the whiz of cars behind him on the highways sort of got his goat at first, but he's getting used to them, and that for real enjoyment of that new machine of his he takes to the less traveled roads.

Joe's many friends hope that the new bicycle, the exercise and the pep and vitality that the long hours of work connected with the organization and getting into operation of the new consolidated school sapped out of him.

It's an age old racket that furnishes a lot of action for grand jurors, the crime commission, state's attorneys, police, newspapers and reformers, but which to the average man in the street who knows what's going on, the whole thing is a laugh.

by LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

Robert Fulton sat beside the fireplace watching the steam that came singing and hissing from a teakettle.

"I wonder—" he thought to himself, and his mind began to imagine methods of harnessing the power that expressed itself in that steaming kettle. He found a method, and all the world benefited from those results.

I have often seen young folks on my route with the same thoughtful eyes, the same questioning mind. Young folks who refuse to take anything for granted, but who have to think the solutions for every problem out for themselves. And every time I see a young person like that, it makes me think of Fulton, and Henry Ford, and Thomas Edison—men who were always asking themselves questions about everything they encountered—"I wonder how—I wonder why!"

The thing which has made great inventors, great statesmen, great men in every walk of life is simply their superlative developed imaginations. Imagination may not make you or I become great. But surely it can lighten the drabness, the commonness of things about us. It is the wide awake, questioning mind that gets the excitement, the joy out of life. The mind that is forever imagining, forever thinking, planning, wondering "how" and "why" and "if". The mind that is trained to gloat over the pastel shades of a rainbow, and dream up the secret of the spectrum. The mind that hears the caroling of birds, and is inspired to set the emotions and imagination their songs have aroused into poetry or music.

I have often heard people say "I can't write," or "I can't draw," or "I was never musical." Yet imagination—the thing that all art and thought is based on—imagination and memory are common enough to most of us. Like an unused muscle in our body, it awaits only exercise and will to develop it.

Imagination given full play, has boundless possibilities. It was the imagination and genius of Alexander the Great that conquered all the known world of

BY T. C. HART

SPRING

"Beautiful day for the first day of spring," was the sarcastic comment of nearly everyone last Friday morning when spring made its appearance under a mantle of snow. Yes, the snow covered ground and trees were people appreciated that particular brand of beauty this late in the season when they were looking for some warm balmy days.

The weather man gave forth with the guess that maybe because of the wintry March weather we might have a beautiful warm spring when spring finally got here. Well, come on warm and beautiful, everyone is waiting for you.

Beautiful snow of springtime, Garlands the trees at night, Covering the world at sunrise, All with a glistening white. Beautiful snow of springtime, Soft as the morning dew, Beautiful snow of springtime, Oh to the heck with you.

IN THE SOUTH

From reports from the deep south the spring is also late in that country. Down along the gulf coast flowers are reported to be two weeks late in blooming.

The only spot where spring really seems to have made a showing is at some historic gardens south of Mobile, Ala. where conditions were such that the famous gardens are a mass of bloom.

BIRDS

The spring birds are making their appearance slowly, as if they knew all the time that conditions in this country were not going to be favorable for an early March spring. But the vanguard of the feathered tribe is slowly showing up and a few real spring like days should bring the bird colony back in goodly numbers.

SUPER MAJOR

The major bowling league in Palatine has been seeing an example in the last few weeks of how a major league should bowl. Irving Hahnfeldt has been filling in vacancies in that league for several weeks, just to keep in practice, and he has been shooting a flock of consistent series of good scores.

We asked some of the majors what sort of a bowler they considered Irving to be if they called themselves majors and the answer was that he was a "super" major. His good example, however, doesn't seem to be having a whole lot of effect in improving the scores of some of those major leaguers.

RUBBERS

Rubbers have been a pretty scarce article this winter, and Martin Schreiber of Barrington was having a lot of trouble in finding a pair. In fact, he had hunted all over this part of the country for a pair without finding any.

Then when he had about given up hope of keeping his feet dry this spring the cashier at

READING &amp; WRITING

BY Robin McKinn

"Tales of the South Pacific," by James A. Michener was written during the war, but it's not really about the war. It's just about a lot of men in uniform who lived for days and weeks and months on some far away islands. And it's also about the native inhabitants of those islands.

"Whenever I start to talk about the South Pacific, people intervene," says Mr. Michener. People like the old Tonkinese woman who used to sell human heads. As souvenirs. For fifty dollars! Or like the old savage who wanted more than anything else in the world to jump from an airplane and float down to earth in a parachute. One day the men took him up with them and shoved him out. Ever afterward he walked in silence among the black men, a soul apart, like one who had discovered things best hidden from humanity.

Or Emile de Becque, the French planter who fell in love with an American nurse, or the remittance man who lived among the Japs and radioed their movements—until one fatal morning, or Lieutenant Bill Harbison who lived like a hero but wasn't one.

While James Michener was writing these stories, he had two critics—one a brilliant, acidulous officer who told him everything he did was terrible and he ought to change it here and there. "He depressed me so that if I ever own a bulldog I shall call it after him." The other was an enlisted man who waited for him each night for the new pages, took them to the Quonset hut where he and five others would read them aloud. Each morning he brought them back, saying, "It's wonderful. I wouldn't change a word of it."

Authors are unpredictable. Betty MacDonald's "The Egg and I" had phenomenal success. It passed the million-copy mark in August 1946 and is well on its way in the second million. It was a Book-of-the-Month Club book-dividend. Now Mrs. MacDonald has a child's book out called "Mrs. Piggie-Wiggle." "I am very much more thrilled about Mrs. Piggie-Wiggle than about the Egg," she says. "I hope it sells because if it doesn't it will prove I've been boring my children all these years."

Baseball league is formed

The Northwest Suburban League has been formed with the baseball season opening April 29. William Busse, Sr. of Mt. Prospect is president. W. H. Bullen of Palatine secretary-treasurer and Herbert Heidecke of Des Plaines vice president. The towns who have completed their organization are Edison Park, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Palatine and Lake Zurich. Wauconda will probably complete the league.

There will be 12 games in each town during the season. The holiday games are divided and by the deposit of forfeits and rules every contingency is provided for.

Lights now at depot

It seems too good to be true, but from all appearances the Arlington Heights depot will no longer be hidden in the shadows when the shades of night fall. Instead, electric lights, three on the north and five on the south side along the platform, also in the depot will light the path of the traveling public. This is a good "Safety First" measure.

Charley Chaplin coming to Palatine

For the next eight Thursday evenings Charley Chaplin in his latest pictures will meet his friends at the Seip auditorium, Palatine. Mr. Seip has contracted for two and three reel specials for each of the nights. The first will be "Charley Chaplin's Dream." It is a scream. Admission 15c and 10c.

Makes first haul with auto truck

Fred Haemker, Palatine, never misses a moving job, whether it be a house or only a lot of household goods. He has used his steam engine in many of the former, but he made his initial haul with his auto truck Tuesday when he went to Barrington to move household goods of Ed Behrens to Arlington Heights.

Many an auto would not have attempted those roads in this weather, but Fred can overcome all difficulties, no matter how great they may seem to others.

Band to have new uniforms

Arlington Heights band recently elected a committee to get prices on uniforms. John Redeker, H. Henjes, Frank Lacina, E. Koerber and H. C. Landeck went to the city and came back with samples, prices and good suggestions. They reported to the band the style and kind of goods selected and the suits will be made.

The band is thereby preparing themselves to appear in the best possible manner and to be a credit to the whole community. How about the village giving them a stand and an attractive place to show these suits, where all can enjoy their good music?

Moves office to Bruhns building

Judge Albert S. Olms, Palatine, will have his business office in the Henry Bruhns building above the meat market after the first of the month. The increase of clientele that call on Mr. Olms for his services in the capacity of judge, notary public and fire insurance necessitates his securing a larger office.

Fire dept. officers elected

At the regular monthly meeting of the Itasca Fire dept. Monday evening the following officers were elected: chief, Will Mess (re-elected); asst. chief, Geo. Goeddeke; treasurer, Albert Pieper.

JUST AROUND the CORNER

Dear Jane:

According to William Hone, who published what he termed an "Everlasting Calendar," or "The Every-Day Book," in London in 1826, "on the 20th of March, the sun enters the constellation, Aries, or the Ram, which is the first zodiacal sign; and this is the first day of Spring."

But, according to our modern calendar, this, the 21st of March, is the first day of Spring. One would never know it looking out over the fields here at the farm. They are covered with a heavy snow, and it could very well be Christmas, it's that cold.

Perhaps you would like to hear more of what Mr. Hone had to say about Spring in his column of the 20th of March 1826. . .

"In Spring the ancient Romans celebrated the Ludi Florales. These were annual games in honor to Flora, accompanied by supplications for beneficent influences on the grass, trees, flowers, and other products of the earth, during the year."

"The Greeks likewise invoked fertility on the coming of Spring with many ceremonies. The remnants of the Roman festivals, in countries which the Roman arms subdued, have been frequently noticed; and it is not surprising to advert to them further, than by observing that there is considerable difficulty so apportioning every usage in a modern ceremony, as to assign each to its proper origin. Spring, as the commencement of the natural year, must have been hailed by all nations with satisfaction; and was, undoubtedly, commemorated, in most, by public rejoicing and popular sports."

"The Germans retain many of the annual customs peculiar to themselves before the Roman conquest. The approach of Spring was there commemorated with an abundance of display, its allegorical character was its most remarkable feature."

"It was called, Der Sommers-gewinn, the acquisition of summer; and about thirty years ago was celebrated at the beginning of Spring by the inhabitants of Eisenach, in Saxony, who, for that purpose, divided themselves into two parties. One party carried Winter under the shape of a man covered with straw, out of the town, and then, as it were, sent him into public exile; whilst the other party, at a distance from the town, decked Spring, in the form of a youth, with boughs of cypress and May, and marched in solemn array to meet their comrades, the jocund executioners of Winter."

"In the meanwhile, national ballads, celebrating the delights of Spring and Summer, filled the skies; processions paraded the meadows and fields, loudly imploring the blessings of a prolific summer; and the jovial merry-makers then brought the victor-god home in triumph."

"In the course of time, however, this ceremonial underwent various alterations. The parts, before personified, were now performed by real dramatic personae, entertaining the spectators with a combat, wherein Winter was ultimately vanquished and stripped of his emblematic attire; Spring the victor, was led in triumph, amidst the loud acclamations of the multitude, into the town."

Motor club offers drivers' training courses in schools

With the support of the superintendents of public instruction of both Illinois and Indiana, Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor Club announced today further plans which will make it possible for almost every public and parochial high school in the Club's territory to install a Driver Training course in September, 1947.

With the help of manufacturers, distributors and dealers, it is believed that many schools will be able to obtain cars this fall. Dual control equipment will be furnished by the Motor Club.

On the problem of cars, the recommendation of the Club is that local auto dealers furnish a car for their high school. This car would be given without charge to the school from September to June. It is felt that the dealer would be able to sell the car in June for as much as he was required to pay the factory in September. School authorities are urged to cooperate by publicizing the efforts of these civic-minded dealers. Instruction materials for the courses have been printed and copies sent to educators. Text books will be available at cost, other materials will be furnished without cost.

Petroleum Compounds

Petroleum has been established as an important source of chemical compounds with which can be created an amazing array of diverse and useful materials. Glycerine, for example, can now be produced synthetically, giving assurance of a stable supply of this product, in past years largely a byproduct of soap manufacture. Toluol, from which TNT is made, was formerly obtained entirely as a byproduct of coal carbonization, but now may be manufactured synthetically, as well, from petroleum hydrocarbons.

Ask Congress for 12 more legal holidays

by CHAUNCEY W. REED

The Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary revealed the fact that already there are before that Committee for consideration a few dozen bills seeking the establishment by law of additional legal holidays, or the observance by Presidential proclamation of ceremonies commemorating certain events. Next week a hearing has been assured to all the authors of such bills to come in and argue their proposals or forever hold their peace. It is a certainty that few if any will survive the test.

Here is a partial list. August 14th each year to commemorate end of World War II; October 11th of each year to commemorate the death of Gen. Casimir Pulaski; November 10, 1947 to observe the creation of U. S. Marine Corps; the week of February 14th each year as National Heart Week; from Thanksgiving to Christmas of each year as a period for nation-wide Bible reading; April 19th of each year as Patriot's Day; September 17th of each year as Constitution Day; February 11th of each year as Thomas A. Edison Day; November 19th of each year as Dedication Day; February 1 of each year, as National Freedom Day; the first Sunday of June as Shut In's Day; the first Monday of October as National Farm Day; the fourth Saturday in September as American Indian Day; and the second Sunday of October as Grandmother's Day.

When one wag on the Committee inquired if there was a bill to commemorate Mother-in-Law's Day he was informed that such was unnecessary as her day was every day.

Hungary, Rumania open to CARE; new wool package offered

Extension of CARE's service to Hungary and Rumania and the addition of a woolen textile package to the food and blanket parcels that Americans are sending to Europe by the hundreds of thousands were announced as the latest steps in the rapidly expanding program of CARE, non-profit, government-approved cooperative organization at 50 Broad Street, New York.

The new woolen textile package, like the food and blanket parcels, may be ordered at CARE's headquarters, at a cost of $10, with delivery to designated individuals or groups guaranteed. It contains 3 1/2 yards of 100 per cent woolen fabric, 56 to 58 inches wide, in 14-ounce herringbone weave, sufficient for a full suit of clothing for a large man; 2 yards of cotton drill; 500 yards of thread; one packet of needles; one thimble; 3 large buttons and 15 small buttons.

HOSPITALITY
Hospitality consists in a little fire, a little food, and an immense quiet.

—Emerson.
Like many other virtues, hospitality is practiced, in its perfection, by the poor.

He who is afraid of being too generous has lost the power of being magnanimous. The best man or woman is the most unselfed.

—Mary Baker Eddy.
In good company, you need not ask who is the master of the feast. The man who sits in the lowest place and who is always industrious in helping every one; is certainly the man.

—David Hume.
Men of the noblest dispositions think themselves happiest when others share their happiness with them.

Motor club asks rerouting of rts. 12

A recommendation to reroute US 12 out of Park Ridge in Des Plaines was one of the principal items of business of the Northwest Area Council of the Chicago Motor Club at its meeting on Thursday, March 13, at Mario's Restaurant, 1939 No. Milwaukee Avenue. The council will suggest to the State Highway Department that US 12 go north on Lincoln Avenue from Foster thence on to the Skokie Highway to Dempster Street thence west on Dempster to Rand road. This will take the heavy traffic out of Park Ridge where officials say that the streets are inadequate to handle the volume.

Vacation travel averages 2500 miles

The average motorist spent $93.65 on his highway vacation travel during 1946, and vacation-bound cars contained an average of three persons each. Sixteen days comprised the average vacation and trips averaged 2,567 miles.

In a survey just completed by the Chicago Motor Club and other affiliated American Automobile Association Clubs, it was also found that of the sixteen days spent on vacation, eight and one-half were given over to travel.

As to overnight accommodations, 35 percent of the motorists queried used a combination of hotels and motor court or tourist homes en route; 26 percent used hotels exclusively; 25 percent chose motor courts, while 14 percent stayed at tourist homes. Nearly half of all the reporting motorists visited one or more of the national and state parks.

SUES FOR DIVORCE

Forest Preserve gives low rent to its employees
President William E. Erickson of the County Board has launched an investigation on the rental charged by the forest preserve for homes owned by the district. There are 200 such homes, many of them of six and seven rooms and of modern construction. Nearly a third of the homes are rented gratis to the present occupants. The homes became the property of the forest preserves when the surrounding land was acquired in condemnation proceedings. Supt. Sauers says that as soon as the housing situation eases, they will be disposed of. Lessees of the homes must pay for upkeep and repairs. Many of them serve as watchmen of the areas surrounding the homes. Some of the occupants only pay $10 or $15 a month. Twenty-five dollars is high.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.—Big Nine Conference basketball game spectators at Minneapolis and Ohio State games will be given a break with installation of transparent glass backboards. Now those fans at the ends of the floors, instead of missing the key-action on the boards, will have a clear view. The excellent visibility of the boards, made of Hercules heat-tempered glass, is demonstrated by forward Bud Grant of Minnesota on the board recently installed by the Gophers.

Questions on GI bill
Question: If I hire an attorney to present my disability claim to the Veterans Administration, will the attorney be reimbursed by the V. A.?
Answer: Yes, if he is successful in getting the claim through, he will be reimbursed by the Veterans Administration for the amount of ten dollars only and no more.
Question: I am married and going to school. My subsistence allowance is not enough so I want a job. How much money can I earn to stay within the law on the G. I. Bill?
Answer: There is no limit on your earnings, as long as you don't draw subsistence. The limit is on the amount of subsistence that you may draw. As a married man your earnings plus subsistence must not exceed $200. To phrase it another way you may earn as much as you can and draw just enough subsistence to bridge the gap between earnings and $200. As your earnings increase, your subsistence will be reduced. There is no limit on your working hours.
Question: I am the wife of a disabled veteran. Am I entitled to "wife" preference for a federal civil service job if my husband receives disability retirement benefits, or pension, on the basis of a nonservice-connected disability?
Answer: No.
Question: My wife and I are both veterans. Can we both obtain veterans preference for federal civil service jobs at the same time?
Answer: Yes, if the wife is entitled to preference based on her own service in the armed forces. However, husband and wife are not entitled to concurrent preference benefits based on the husband's military service alone.

Illinois problem Seek way to rid state capitol of pigeons
If anyone has a sure-fire non-objectionable method to rid the State Capitol of pigeons and starlings, Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett would like to know about it.
The birds have been a State House problem for years, he said, but all experiments to get rid of the nuisance permanently have failed.
For instance, Mr. Barrett said, blasting the birds with shotguns was tried. Immediately protests arose from residents in the vicinity of the capitol who objected to the noise and to the danger of stray shots. Besides the birds only sought new havens for two or three days and then returned.
Then, he said, capitol maintenance men placed stuffed owls and hawks in strategic places about the capitol, a plan that was reported to have worked elsewhere. The stuffed birds only provided new roosts for the pigeons and starlings.
"Poison the birds," many people have advised Mr. Barrett. He's wary of this plan lest the birds scatter the poison around the neighborhood and dogs and other pets become the victims.
One plan seriously offered to Secretary Barrett was to scatter alcohol soaked grain on window ledges, railings and eaves. When the birds became intoxicated, someone was supposed to catch them. The Secretary didn't think that plan was practical.
Someone else reported development of a new machine that emitted supersonic rays which would frighten the birds away. The Secretary tracked that one down, only to find that the device is only in the idea stage. Monoxide gas was suggested to Mr. Barrett as another remedy. It has worked in church bellies and towers which could be closed in to confine the fumes, but it's impossible to box in the roosting areas in the capitol.
Another preferred plan would have had the Secretary install spiked rails around the roof and on window ledges to make "roosting uncomfortable for the birds." That idea has worked in buildings with straight functional lines, Mr. Barrett understands, but the ornate architecture and innumerable recesses and coves all the way to the dome ruled out that plan.
Someone else suggested that chloride of lime be sprinkled around the favorite roosting places of the birds to burn their feet.
Most of the places where the birds gather are inaccessible from windows or from the roof, according to the Secretary. To do an effective job, a scaffolding around the entire Capitol Building would have to be constructed and whenever it rained the treatment would have to be repeated.
The Secretary still hasn't given up hopes of ridding the Capitol of the birds. In response to his appeal for a solution to the problem, the University of Illinois has a committee investigating plans which have been reported successful in other areas.
In addition, Mr. Barrett has ordered some electrically wired screening which he plans to have installed experimentally in several strategic places around the building. The current would be strong enough only to shock the birds and make roosting around the Capitol less attractive.
In the meantime, the Secretary said he would welcome suggestions from anyone who has a proven remedy to offer.

LUCKY STRIKE
The largest gold nugget on record was found in 1869 in a rut made by a cart, only a few inches below the surface of the ground, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica. The nugget, known as the "Welcome Stranger," weighed 157½ pounds.

Heart Disease Prevalent
It is estimated that there are more than 4,000,000 people in the United States today who have heart disease. Diseases of the heart and blood vessels, including cerebral hemorrhage, accounted for 575,000 deaths in 1944.

Seed Corn Grew 96%
After 14 Days in Cold, Wet Soil

Note the great difference in germination of seed corn planted on each side of this tray. Seed in both sides was taken from the same bag—soil was from a field where corn had grown 3 years. Tray was held at 47 degrees for 14 days—then given normal temperature—note the results.

CROW'S FILM-COATED SEED CORN

This is a sensational, new discovery for hybrid corn. Insures seed protection in cold, wet soil. Unlike chemical "dusting," Crow's Film-Coated Corn sends the entire seed treatment into the ground with the kernel. The corn stays alive—produces a good stand—more vigorous plants—a better crop for you. Place orders now for spring delivery.

1947 AAA deadline date reminder

Cook County farmers are again reminded that the deadline date for completing 1947 Farm Plans is March 31st. This is a hard-and-fast date and no extension can be expected. The only exemptions are those cases in which there is a transfer of land or farming interest.

Mr. Bormet, Chairman of the county committee, states that regardless of how much conservation is undertaken, no assistance can be rendered under the ACP Program unless a Farm Plan has been completed. Furthermore, no assistance can be given in helping farmers carry out specific practices unless such practices have definitely been requested and approved. "It is our hope," said the committeeman, "that no farmer will lose the benefits offered by the ACP Program by failure to make his request to the county committee on time."

28% Increase In Germination

Under Cold Wet Conditions With DeKalb's New Seed
Treatment

Consistent with our policy of giving the farmer the best seed corn possible, the following information is brought to your attention:

1. The DeKalb Company has been experimenting with a new seed treatment since 1943.
2. Tests conducted by an Official Seed Testing Laboratory showed seed treated with this new chemical germinated 28% better under cold conditions than old-type dust treatments.
3. ALL DE KALB SEED was treated with this new seed treatment last year. The outstanding germination of DE KALB SEED last spring caused the Company to again treat their ENTIRE SEED CROP with this new chemical.

Chicks Don't Count if They Fail To Survive Cold Brooding Season

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

It does little good, so far as production profits are concerned, to count your chicks—even after they are hatched—if they fail to live through the brooding season. This same line of reasoning also applies to little pigs, farrowed in the early spring and fall. Thousands of dollars in farm income are lost annually because of the high death rate among chicks and pigs which have been crushed or chilled in their efforts to keep warm during cold brooding periods. In the case of chicks, there is an additional brooding factor to consider, for egg production means money in the bank—and chickens can't brood chicks and lay eggs at the same time. To prevent such losses in income, many farmers have installed electric chick and pig brooders.

The newest and most efficient electric chick brooders are equipped with "engineered air-circulating systems which provide the following good "under the cover" brooding requirements: uniform distribution of heat, clean, fresh air and low moisture conditions. Brooders should provide 10 square inches of uniformly heated space for each chick. Operational costs vary according to the weather, type of brooder house, number of chicks brooded and the type of brooding management followed. In general, however, about 1/2 to 1/4 kilowatt hours of power are consumed per chick during spring brooding periods. Pig brooders usually consist of a triangular wooden framework, closed on two sides. Heat is provided by a reflector-mounted incandescent lamp of 100 to 150 watts, the size of lamp

Pastures need good legume in spring seeding

When selecting your grass-legume mixtures for pasture seedings this spring, use a legume that gives high yields in your community.

W. B. Nevens, professor of dairycattle feeding, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says the legume in the pasture mixture provides the cue to the success or may expect from the pasture. He doesn't minimize the grass part of the mixture—the grass may include bluegrass, bromegrass, redtop and timothy—but the main factor is the legume. The legume may be alfalfa, red clover or alsike clover.

Of course, there are other points that affect pasture yield. Such elements as the weather and fertilization also have a bearing on the productivity of the pasture. As many stockmen are learning, it pays to know the present state of fertility of the pasture ground. Yields go up and the pasture has a higher feeding value when the soil is tested and treated with whatever fertilizers are needed.

To farmers interested in pasture improvement, Nevens recommends Circulars 553 and 465, both of which may be obtained from the College of Agriculture, Urbana, Illinois.

Cleaning Silver

Silver should be polished regularly to maintain and restore its brightness. The easiest way is to use a good standard polish in paste, liquid or powder form. You should have a definite time set aside for cleaning silver.

Bovine mastitis controls increase in milk production

Milk production increased 3.1 pounds per cow per day in 25 Illinois dairy herds after the introduction of mastitis control measures, says Dr. H. S. Bryant of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine. The control program was initiated in 1944 in seven of the leading Illinois milk-producing areas.

Statistics show an increase of 946 pounds of milk per cow for one year, or an increased return of $37.84 per cow per year during the mastitis control period. An increased return of $681.12 for an 18-cow dairy herd was estimated.

"Dr. F. L. Brown, Geneva, Illinois is at the disposal of Cook County dairymen with mastitis problems," states Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes. "The only cost is a willingness to do something about mastitis in your herd."

LAW on the FARM

AGENTS. Agents, like flowers, come in the spring. They come to sell feed, seed, fertilizer, stock remedies, tractors and vanilla to the farmer and the farmer's wife. Sometimes they leave the goods and take the cash, completing a sale. Many times, however, they ask the farmer or his wife to sign a contract for future delivery. Payment may be made after delivery, at the time of entering the contract or at some other time or times and under an installment-plus-interest plan. In any case, there are some simple rules of a mixed legal and business nature which should be kept in mind by one who purchases from an agent.

1. Be sure that the agent is a bona fide representative of the company he claims to represent and that he has authority to sell the products under the plan he proposes and with the guarantees or warranties he makes. In case of doubt, do a little "checking up" before signing a contract. This is important, because if the agent is not authorized to enter the contract he urges or to make the warranties he states, his company is not bound. Also, if the agent is not authorized to receive payment and payment is made to him, his misappropriation of funds may not prevent his company from collecting under a valid contract made by the agent.

2. Agents can do a great deal of "puffing" about their product without being legally held as having made guarantees or warranties. Therefore, a purchaser who wants to make sure the article is as represented should exact written guarantees from the agent.

3. As in other business transactions, it is a distinct advantage for the buyer to deal with an agent known to him either personally or by reputation.

4. Goods purchased from an agent should be subjected to the same tests of economy and ability to perform as are goods purchased elsewhere. To do this it may be necessary to properly discount an attractive presentation of statements that sound like facts.

Florist news for Easter

The varieties of flowers we missed during the war years, will all be available this Easter, which falls on Sunday, April 6. Florists say we will have all the colors in roses again, as well as new types of carnations, gardenias and camellias. And orchids in several hybrid varieties which were scarce in the days when the growers were at the fighting fronts.

The lilies are American-grown lilies, which have replaced the Formosa imports. There are increased plantings of tulips and jonquils, and the stately snapdragons and double-flowering stocks seen last week at the flower show.

Production credit available to farmers

"Repeatedly farmers make inquiry about some government agency to finance seed, feed, livestock, fertilizer, machinery, etc.," states Farm Advisor, C. A. Hughes.

There is one government agency in the field which is very selective of its prospects, but which does extensive financing, this was the Farm Security Administration, now called the Farmers Home Administration. However, the agency that most farmers have in mind is the Production Credit Association. The Production Credit Association does not give away government money, but they are set up as a cooperative lending agency on a sound financial basis and make loans for the purposes mentioned above. Operating in this territory to serve the farmers this agency is called the Fox Valley Joliet Production Credit Association with central offices at 312 W. State street, Geneva, Illinois — Phone Geneva 651 or a representative will be at the Farm Bureau office in Arlington Heights every second and fourth Thursday of the month, where farmers desiring such loans may talk it over with Mr. Harold Rohrsen, regular association representative."

Gems of thought

LITTLE THINGS

The power of little things to give instruction and happiness should be the first lesson in life, and it should be inculcated deep and early.

—Russell H. Conwell

Most of the critical things in life, which become the starting points of human destiny, are little things.

—Robert P. Smith.

Seeing that we have to attain to the ministry of righteousness in all things, we must not overlook small things in goodness or in badness, for "trifles make perfection," and "the little foxes spoil the vines."

—Mary Baker Eddy

Trifles discover character more than actions in seeming importance; what one is in little things he is also in great.

—Swift

In great matters men show themselves as they wish to be seen; in small matters, as they are.

Seek law to stop diversion of car taxes

Two items of paramount importance to motorists have been introduced in the present session of the Illinois Legislature. They are: a resolution proposing a Constitutional Amendment prohibiting the use of motor vehicle taxes or license fees for any purpose other than the construction, repair and lighting of highways and bridges; and a bill empowering the city of Chicago to establish and maintain off-street parking places, reports the Legislative Department of the Illinois Automobile Club.

"Due to the uncertainty of either the adoption by the Legislature of the Constitutional Amendment or its final ratification by the voters when and if presented for their action, a Bill has been drafted and also will be introduced providing a law that would prohibit diversion of money collected from motorists," says Carl A. Barrett, President of the Club. "Both of these measures will be pressed for enactment, though the Constitutional Amendment is preferred as it would be permanent legislation. However, if the Amendment cannot get past the legislative barriers, every effort will be made to obtain an anti-diversion statute."

Chicago's parking crisis has solidified support for a Bill empowering the city to handle the situation constructively. All other cities in the state now have that power, Chicago alone being excepted.

"Another important Bill now pending in the Legislature is one to make instruction in driving motor vehicles compulsory in all public schools," concluded Mr. Barrett. "Such a law should be valuable in educating the coming generation of automobile drivers in traffic safety."

Fashions in school rooms

That's not just an ordinary school room in which your child is probably studying today.

It represents the very latest thinking in good school room lighting and appointments, and might well be used as a model for any parent-teacher or philanthropic group interested in moving to improve the well-being of youngsters.

Here is how it differs from the school room in which your child is probably studying today:

1. Rows of fluorescent lights, shielded from the eye by those vertical wooden shields in the ceiling, pour 40 units of cool, comfortable, economical illumination over all parts of the room. (Six units of light is probably a high estimate for the illumination most school rooms now have.)

2. White ceilings and light colored walls, providing excellent light reflection, contribute further to good seeing conditions.

3. Desk tops are of light colored wood to reduce annoying contrast between white books or paper—the contrast that helps make for eyestrain and the early wearing of eyeglasses.

4. Although three chalk boards are shown—black, white and soft green—the latter is recommended, for it too reduces the sharp contrast between black boards and light walls.

5. Note the germicidal units (below the clock and above the pictures on the wall at right) which aid in guarding the students' health from air-borne bacteria.

Located in the General Electric Co.'s newly opened Lighting Institute at Nela Park, Cleveland, O., this model school room attracts educators from all parts of the country who are seeking expert advice on bringing rooms in their own school systems up to better lighting standards.

New courses spring quarter at N. U.

After a week of vacation, spring quarter classes will begin next Tuesday, April 1, for approximately 7,900 students on the Evanston campus of Northwestern University.

Registration for new students will be held Monday, March 31. A wide variety of courses, including many new ones in some 50 fields of study will be presented by the eight schools on the Evanston campus.

The geology department will present a new undergraduate course in field methods in geology which will take students on field trips, including trips to the Baraboo region of southern Wisconsin, noted for its unusual rock formations, and the Marquette range in upper Michigan.

An increased interest in art by students who do not plan careers in that field is reported by the art department. Spring quarter registration in a general course in "The World of Art," open to all students, already has doubled that of last quarter and tripled that of a year ago.

Another spring quarter innovation will be the award by the University of a new prize of $100 for the best original painting by a Northwestern student during the school year.

DIONNES NOTE

An individual oyster can produce 55,000,000 to 114,000,000 eggs during its lifetime, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

It is yours. Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Immutable; unchangeable. "God's laws are immutable."

Mendacious; given to falsehood; lying. "A man who would make these mendacious statements should not be entrusted with such an office."

Dissolution; act of dissolving; extinction of life; death. "The body being only the covering of the soul, at its dissolution, we shall discover the secrets of nature."—Seneca.

Diligence; persevering application. "The expectations of life depend upon diligence."—Confucius.

Idiomatic; pertaining to an idiom, or language peculiar to a people. "His speech was distinctly idiomatic."

Oligarchy; a form of government in which the power is vested in a few, or a state so governed. (Pronounce ol-i-gar-ki, o as in of, both i's as in it, a as in ah, principal accent on first syllable.)

Modern Etiquette

1. On what occasions does one wear full evening dress?

2. On being introduced to someone, is it all right to say, "Pleased to meet you?"

3. How should invitations be issued to an informal dinner?

4. Which expression should be used in a social note or letter, "Dear Mr. Allen" or "My Dear Mr. Allen"?

5. Should the bride and bridegroom both reply to a toast that is given to them?

6. Where should the coffee or tea pot be placed on the table?

7. Should a person write a letter when in an ugly mood, or feeling depressed?

8. It is obligatory that relatives and friends send gifts to a newly-engaged girl?

9. When visiting in a home, should one address the servants as Mr. Brown and Miss Jones?

10. Is it necessary to bow each time when meeting the same person a number of times in succession?

11. If there are to be three speakers at a public dinner, or banquet, how much time should be allotted to each speaker?

12. Is it customary for the bride to give presents to her bridesmaids?

Answers: 1. At formal evening weddings, large formal dinners, balls, formal evening receptions, and the opera. 2. No. The only acceptable form now seems to be, "How do you do?" 3. By a short note or by telephone. 4. That depends upon whether the note is formal or informal. "My Dear Mr. Allen" is the more formal. 5. The bridegroom replies for the bride. 6. At the right hand side of the hostess. 7. Absolutely not; and an excellent rule to follow. If one does write a letter under these circumstances, is to hold the letter until the following morning, then read it again. In nine cases out of ten, the letter will not be mailed. 8. No, but one who is financially able and generous often does. 9. No; address them as Charles and Mary. 10. No; merely smile. 11. Fifteen to twenty minutes is sufficient. 12. Yes.

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "The property has depreciated in value" (often heard). In value is tautological, as depreciate means to lessen in price or estimated value.

Do not say, "He is the most eccentric human I have ever seen." Say human being, or person.

Do not say, "We need to have no fear of the result." Omit to. Do not say, "Much work still remains to be done." Still is redundant. Say, "Much work remains to be done."

Do not say, "He came home minus his money." Say, "He came home without his money."

Do not say, "There is many more." "There is a few more." "There are several more." Say, "There are many more, are a few more, are several more."

Your weekly treat recipe

Have you ever tried Sandwich Souffle? It's a grand treat for Sunday evening supper, or as a "special" for your bridge luncheon. After making the Souffle, be sure to serve it at once while it's hot.

Sandwich Souffle: 6 slices bread, 6 eggs, 1 cup grated cheese 1 tspn. salt, dash of paprika, 1/4 tspn. pepper.

Method: Toast the bread on one side and butter the other side. Separate the eggs. Beat the yolks until stiff and in peaks. Fold the yolks into the whites. Add the seasonings and lastly add the cheese. Pile the mixture on the buttered side of the bread. Bake for fifteen minutes in an oven 325 degrees. Serve at once. Yield: 6 sandwiches.

HOW ABOUT THE TIP?

"A novel method of eliminating work, which may find some opposition from the waiters' union, is a new type of restaurant table. You sit down at the table, write your selections from the menu on a card and drop it in a slot in the table. In a few minutes, the center of your table drops one floor and returns with your dinner hot from the oven."
